Grand Jury Indicts Leftwinger Bridges On Perjury Charges

Communist Labor Leader May Lose Citizenship

San Francisco, May 26. (AP)—Harry Bridges, leftwing west coast labor leader, and two of his top aides were indicted by a federal grand jury yesterday on perjury and conspiracy charges stemming from Bridges' citizenship hearing in 1945.

The immigration service immediately filed a civil complaint seeking to revoke Bridges' citizenship. This action declared Bridges was not only a Communist at the time he became a citizen, but still is.

Many west coast observers interpreted the double barrelled action as signalling the start of a third government attempt in 10 years to deport the 47-year-old, Australian-born Bridges. He is president of the CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

Indicted with him were J. R. Robertson, first vice president of the ILWU, and Henry Schmidt, member of the longshore coast labor relations committee and former president of Bridges' local here. Bail for each was set at $5,000.

The union promptly assailed the indictments as "a political frame-up" by the Truman administration and an attempt to put the union out of business.

Aides Surrender

One count charged the three men conspired against the immigration laws by fraudulently obtaining naturalization for Bridges on Sept. 7, 1945. Another count charged Bridges with perjury in denying that he was then, or ever had been, a member of the Communist party. The third count charged Schmidt and Robertson with perjury. It accused them of testifying falsely that Bridges had not been a member of the Communist party.

Bridges was in New York. He went there after a recent stormy session of the CIO executive council in Washington at which he and other left wing leaders were told to get in line with CIO policies or get out. The union said he would leave New York today for San Francisco.

Robertson was reported in San Francisco and a union attorney said he would surrender today. Schmidt, who has been directing the Hawaiian waterfront strike, surrendered to the U. S. marshal at Honolulu. He was accompanied by six beefy stevedores who shielded him from news cameramen. He called the indictments "just another attempt by the employers to wreck the ILWU."

Conviction on the charges carries a possible maximum penalty of seven years in prison and $15,000 fine.

Queen Mother Mary Gets Salute At 82

London, May 26 (AP) — A 41-gun birthday salute will be fired today for Queen Mother Mary, turned 82 in good health.

A troop of 59 royal horse artillerymen will mark the event at noon in Hyde park, after passing through the iron gates of Marble Arch, opened only on royal occasions.

The queen mother will have a quiet luncheon with her son, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth at Buckingham Palace, after a short ride from Marlborough house, her home.

She will spend the rest of the day answering greetings cabled from all parts of the world, reading and doing a bit of needlework.

PARKING SITES PICKED

Grand Rapids, (AP)—Spokesmen for the Grand Rapids auto parking authority reported Wednesday that 17 sites had been selected for downtown and neighborhood off-street parking locations. One of the proposed locations would be a platform over the Grand river.

Clues In Reuther Shooting Scanty; Victim Loses Eye

Detroit, May 26. (AP)—Police sifted scant clues today in the ambush attempt on the life of CIO unionist Victor Reuther, blinded in one eye by an unknown attacker's gunfire.

At the same time the FBI was considering whether to enter the investigation after a stream of requests from a number of quarters, including congress, the CIO and the state of Michigan.

So far only local authorities, with the help of state police, were pushing the search for the mysterious assailant.

Reuther, educational director for the CIO's big United Auto Workers Union, was shot through a living room window of his home Tuesday night.

The police clues were the weapon, a double-barreled 12 gauge shotgun abandoned in the Reuther yard, and a heel print.

Except for neighbors' reports of seeing an "old model car" drive off rapidly after the gunshot, authorities otherwise lacked much evidence.

Surgeons at Henry Ford hospital yesterday removed Reuther's right eye, which a shotgun pellet had virtually ripped to pieces.

Reuther, 37, also shot in the face and neck, was reported in "satisfactory" condition after the operation.

His brother, Walter, president of the UAW-CIO, on whose life a similar attempt was made 13 months earlier, charged a Communist plot, or other subversive action, might have been responsible for both attacks.

The FBI's aid was asked by CIO President Phil Murray, Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.), Gov. G. Mennen Williams, and the Detroit city council.

Ferguson asked the FBI to step in "before the trail grows cold."

"Those who commit such crimes must be taught it cannot happen in the United States of America," the senator said.

Military Pay Raise Bill Not Dead Yet

Vinson Says New Version Will Pass In House

By HOWARD DOBSON

Washington, May 26 (AP)—Rep. Vinson (D-Ga) said today a new version of the military pay bill suddenly shelved by the House Tuesday will be "back on the floor in two weeks and it will pass."

The original bill was pronounced dead by Rep. Kilday (D-Tex) after he had failed to get it past the House. Kilday led the floor fight for the measure.

But Vinson, chairman of the House Armed Services committee, told reporters: "Never mind what he said. We'll bring it back right away and I think we'll bring back a good bill."

The original bill would not have changed the present $75-monthly pay for the bottom enlisted grade—the army's recruits and navy "boots." In the new bill it may be upped to $60. The next grade, which would have received $82:50 under the old bill, may be boosted to $84 or so under the new one, Vinson said.

But at the other end of the line, he added, there will be some pruning.

"We'll start at the top and work down," Vinson said. "We'll decide what the top men should get, and then we will go on from there."

Captive Coal Mines Prepared To Meet Lewis On Contract

Pittsburgh, May 26 (AP)—The U. S. Steel Corp. has informed John L. Lewis of its willingness to meet with the United Mine Workers' chieftain to write a new contract for its "captive" coal mines.

So-called captive mines are those owned and operated by the steel corporation in connection with its steel production.

In a letter to Lewis yesterday, Harry M. Moses, president of the H. C. Frick Co., a U. S. Steel subsidiary, wrote that the company preferred to begin negotiations after a contract has been reached with commercial operators.

Moses added, however, that if Lewis is "adamant on an earlier meeting, I will, of course meet with you at a time and place convenient for you, preferably after June 10, 1949."

Cold Spell Grips East Half Of U. S.

Chicago, May 26 (AP)—Cool weather blanketed the eastern half of the nation today.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said the chill would last at least through tomorrow and possibly get a little cooler. Midwestern temperatures generally were 10 to 15 degrees below the season normal. Frost hit Lower Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois with more forecast for tonight.

One Veteran Freed From Vermont Jail

Memphis Man Pays Debt Out Of Sympathy

Rutland, Vt., May 26 (AP) — A sympathetic Tennessee cotton shipper contributed funds that opened the doors of Rutland jail last night for one of three war veterans held under a century-old law for non-payment of court judgments.

Ralph H. D. Fugatt, 29, a combat veteran, was released after spending 62 days in jail.

The court judgment, totaling $2,682.39, arising from an automobile accident, was paid by Edward Sanders of Memphis, who said he read of Fugatt's plight and "sympathized" with him.

Sanders was impressed with Fugatt's war record. He was shot down on his 20th mission over Germany and spent several months in a German prison during the war.

"I'm happy for my family and to be able to get out now to seek a job to support my wife and child," Fugatt said through tear-dimmed eyes.

Of Sanders he said: "He must be a most generous and bigheart-ed man. I'm deeply gratified."

The other two veterans, Bernard J. Smith, 23, of Fair Haven, and Frederic L. Lapan, 34, of Marshfield, are still held. Smith owes $2,600 and Lapan $450 on accident judgments. The former is held in Rutland jail and the latter in a Montpelier jail.

Annapolis Buzzes Over Surprise Visit From Mrs. Truman

Annapolis, Md., May 26 (AP)—Annapolis was still buzzing today about Mrs. Harry S. Truman's surprise visit to yesterday's tercentenary festivities.

The first lady and two friends said they were out for a drive and decided to drop in on the 300th anniversary celebration.

They quickly became the guests of honor and Gov. William Preston Lane hustled over to act as guide. The governor showed Mrs. Truman and her two friends, Mrs. B. Harrison Lingo and her daughter Jane Lingo of Washington, through colonial buildings and tercentenary exhibits.

They also visited Maryland's ancient state house, built in 1722 and the oldest state capitol still in use.

Then the first lady reviewed an hour-long parade and after it was all over she said: "I enjoyed every minute of it."

President Scholle Reelected To Head CIO In Michigan

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 26. (AP) — The CIO in Michigan will operate for another year under a long-familiar leadership.

President August (Gus) Scholle and Secretary-Treasurer Barney Hopkins of the state CIO council won thumping re-election victories last night.

Scholle will be serving his seventh consecutive term.

It was no surprise in either case.

Both Scholle and Hopkins, long in the saddle as policy makers for the CIO, beat off opposition thoroughly a year ago and since then have enjoyed strong support. A year ago they were fighting left wing attempts to unseat them.

A flight instructor and another student pilot also died in the crash.

Berlin Rail Jam Blamed Upon Allies

By DANIEL DELUCE

Berlin, May 26 (AP)—Once again, airlift planes roaring in on an 8,000-ton daily schedule are Western Berlin's main source of supply. Millions of dollars of railway cargo has piled up at the Soviet zonal line and in Berlin's strike-bound railyards in what now amounts to a semi-blockade.

Allied officials accused the Russians today of imposing a new type of Berlin blockade by "stubbornly refusing" to concilitate 12,000 anti-Communist railway strikers who want to be paid in Western-sponsored marks. The Russians replied that the strikers are to blame if Berlin has been cut off by rail from Western Germany.

The Western Allied Command of Berlin met in extraordinary session to map new action in the rail crisis which has caused a staggering freight tie-up. Unofficial reports were that the three Western commandants might directly order the anti-Communist strikers to handle incoming trains.

The Russians said the Western Powers tied rail traffic in a knot by failure to order the Interzonal freight trains unloaded.

Ford Makes Offer In Speedup Strike

Dickers To Be Resumed At 2:30 P.M. Today

Detroit, May 26 (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. today prepared a counter arbitration proposal in the speed-up strike of the CIO United Auto Workers.

In the exchange of the proposals lay the hope for a settlement and the return to work of 106,000 Ford employes as well as undetermined thousands of others affected by the strike.

Management planned to lay its proposal before the union at resumed negotiations (2:30 p. m. EST).

Yesterday's two-hour session brought from Federal Mediator Arthur C. Viat a report of "definite progress."

The snag on the arbitration issue was over UAW President Walter Reuther's wording.

Reuther said the arbitrator should decide whether the company was entitled to "require" men to work faster than "100 per cent of normal production standards" and to make up for stoppages they cannot control.

Ford disagreed and left the conference to prepare its own proposal.

Meanwhile Ford announced it was opposing unemployment compensation payments for workers in Ford plants which are shut down because of the walkout in the Detroit factories. Ford's national operations have been affected by the strike.

Ford announced at the same time that it would advance payment of group insurance for all its employes in order to alleviate any hardship and keep the insurance policies in force.

Police Chief Faces Extortion Charges

Lancaster, O., May 26 (AP)—Police Chief Sam H. Hutsler was free on $500 bond today after his arrest on extortion charges.

Fairfield county sheriff's deputies still were seeking Lt. Everett Brown who was accused with the chief of receiving cash "kickbacks" from persons selling equipment to the department.

The charges were filed yesterday afternoon by three policemen who had been suspended from duty by the 38-year-old chief.

Reds Crush Defenses Along Soochow Creek

Powers Ask Russia To Loosen Grip On German Industries

Paris Meeting Still Has Long Way To Go

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

Paris, May 26, (AP)—Diplomatic informants said today the Western Powers demand that Russia relax her grip on east German industries as one of the conditions for economic unity in Germany.

Dean Acheson, United States secretary of state, told the conference of foreign ministers yesterday about a third of the industries in the Soviet Zone of Germany are owned by a Russian trust. Ninety per cent of some key industries, he said, are under Soviet control.

Informants said the Western decision to attempt to loosen this grip was reached in three-power American, British and French exchanges here immediately before the Big Four meetings with the Russians now under way.

It is one of the most important issues before the foreign ministers in this effort to get together on a plan for German economic and political unity.

The conferees still have a long way to go.

Acheson, presiding at today's session, and his British and French colleagues have been taken completely aback by the line followed by Russia's Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Visinsky in the first three days of the conference.

Stand Is Surprise

Their aides state frankly the Western Powers' policy makers did not forsee the Russian "retreat to Potsdam" as a condition for settlement of the German problem.

Vishinsky had demanded revival of the Four-Power Allied Control Council, and has assailed suggestions to extend the West German Republic's constitution to the Soviet Zone as a Western attempt to take all of Germany. The Westerners have labeled his stand a "retreat" to the Potsdam agreement.

The informants said the Western Powers had based their calculations on the expectation Vishinsky would adhere closely to the five-point program embodied in the Warsaw declaration last June by eight eastern European nations.

That declaration in effect called for conclusion of an early German peace treaty under a central German government, to be followed a year later by complete withdrawal of occupation forces.

The West had expected Russia to play up that demand because of its appeal to the German people.

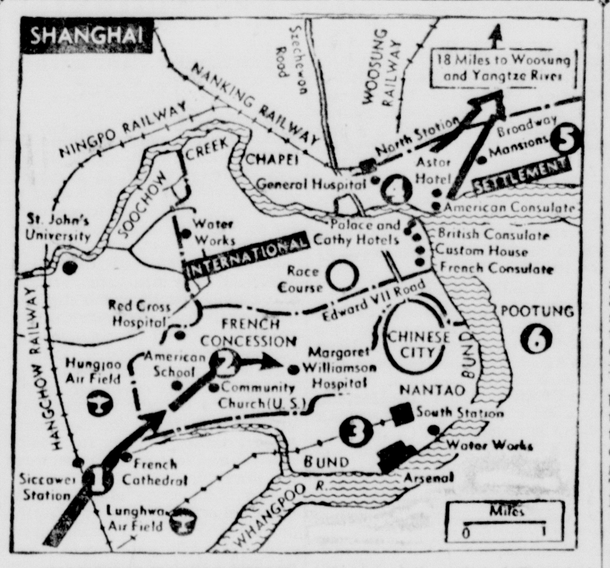

New York's Mayor Will Not Run Again

New York, May 26 (AP)—A free-for-all scramble for the job of running the world's biggest city was touched off today by Mayor William O'Dwyer's announcement that he will not seek reelection.

O'Dwyer had been expected to seek a second term next November. His surprise withdrawal threw the race for the Democratic nomination wide open.

The 58-year-old Democratic mayor was treated for a heart condition in the early part of last year, but his health in recent months apparently has been good.

There was speculation that he might seek the nomination for U. S. Senator to replace the aged and ailing Democratic Senator Robert F. Wagner, who may resign soon. Some thought he might seek the nomination for governor next year.

Fighting Governor Raps GOP Policies

Jackson, Mich., May 26 (AP)—A fighting Governor Williams last night promised "no retreat" in the legislative battle to carry out his campaign pledges.

Addressing the Michigan Federation of Labor convention here, the governor charged the Republican policy committee with betraying the GOP's pre-election promises.

The Republican legislature started the year cooperating in a bi-partisan program, Williams said, but soon was blocked by the policy committee composed of legislators and state officials.

"Instead of cooperation and honest debate on the issues," the governor said, "we began to get a sort of secret party-line activity which was impossible to cope with because the Republican legislators were no longer considering issues on their merits."

"Republican policy," he went on, "was to betray the pre-election promises of the Republican party and strangle all proposals for a fair employment practice law, despite the fact that the Republican state convention adopted a resolution pledging the people of Michigan to enact a civil rights law at this session of the legislature. They were for civil rights only until after the election.

"Republican policy was to bury in committee a Republican sponsored bill for a farm marketing program," he continued.

"Republican policy was to kill all attempts to put a check on the reckless boosting of public utility rates without a hearing of the rate-payers' side. * * *

"Republican policy was to order spent during the next fiscal year from $50 to $70 million dollars more than we have any chance of collecting.

"Republican policy was to bury in committee the only program which can equitably meet our financial problem—a tax on corporation profits."

"The 65th legislature will get another chance to meet the basic problems which the Republican policy committee has thus far refused to face," the governor declared.

"Then we will see whose voice is stronger—the voice of the Republican policy committee issuing its dictates to the legislature, or the voice of the people of Michigan speaking through all of their elected representatives."

"For my part," the governor pledged, "I assure you we have seen only the first round. * * * There will be no retreat."

Beaver Island Buys Its Own Ferry Boat

New $40,000 Company to Run Mainland Link

Charlevoix, Mich., May 26 (AP)—Beaver Island residents today had solved a major transportation problem by forming a new $40,000 company to operate their own ferry service to the mainland.

Motorship service from here to the island, 35 miles out in Lake Michigan, has been held up since April while islanders and the Lyons Navigation company negotiated over cost of improvements to the 65-foot boat the company has used for the past two years.

The company raised freight rates to help finance a new sprinkling system and lights the boat needs to meet federal requirements. The 600 islanders objected to the boost.

Formation of the Beaver Island Transit company, which purchased the ship from Lyons, has solved the problem. New equipment is expected to be installed within 10 days and the vessel placed in operation by June 5.

Since opening of the navigation season islanders have been dependent on a freighter and a tug for mail and passenger service.

Shadow Of Gallows Near For Jake Bird

Hex-Tossing Ax-Slayer Gets Noose Friday

Walla Walla, Wash., May 26 (AP)—The violent adventures of Jake Bird appeared to be nearing their final hour today.

Unless the U. S. circuit court of appeals at San Francisco grants a last-hour stay, the convicted ax-slayer will die at 3:30 a. m. (EST) tomorrow on a gallows he has cheated for a year and a half.

Behind him, if and when he goes, the Negro leaves an almost incredible story of bloodshed, guile and hexes.

During his imprisonment, officers say the 47-year-old transient has confessed involvement in or knowledge of 44 slayings. He was sentenced to die in connection with the bludgeon killing of Mrs. Bertha Kludt and her daughter on Oct. 31, 1947, in Tacoma, Wash.

During his battle to escape the noose, Bird brought his case twice before the U. S. supreme court, three times before the Washington state supreme court, once before a federal district court and a half dozen or more times in state superior court on appeal. He was delayed executions set for Jan. 16, 1948, and Jan. 14, 1949.

When he received his first death sentence, Bird told Superior Judge E. D. Hodge:

"Wait and see. All of you who had anything to do with this case will die before I do."

This was the famous Bird hex. Judge Hodge died a month later of a heart attack. These others died during the next few months: Undersheriff Joe Karnach, Chief Court Clerk Ray Scott, Detective Sherman Lyons and Atty. J. W. Selden, who defended Bird.

GUNMAN IDENTIFIED

Grand Rapids, (AP) — Robert Ranney, 19, is held by police in the robbery shooting of a Grand Rapids grocer. Ranney was arrested at his home Wednesday after the shooting victim, 62-year-old Salim F. Sherman, identified his picture in a high school yearbook. Sherman was injured during the attempted theft.

Nationalist Troops Hoist White Flag On Shanghai Postoffice

Hundreds Of Americans Trapped By Gunfire

By FRED HAMPSON

Shanghai, May 26 (AP)—Nationalist resistance in the heart of Shanghai appeared to be collapsing today and reports swept through the city that the fortress of Woosung to the north had fallen.

These reports, which could not be confirmed, said that 15,000 Nationalist troops were captured on the Woosung front. Woosung, escape hatch for the Shanghai garrison, is 10 miles to the north. The sound of cannonading no longer could be heard to the north.

The battle inside Shanghai surged across Soochow creek bridges, where Nationalist defenders had made a 24-hour stand. It swept on into the northern district.

Nationalists remained in some buildings along the creek refusing to surrender, but they withheld their fire.

Prisoners Rounded Up

The white flag was run up atop the post office building, one of the main holdout points on the north bank of Soochow creek.

The Communists crossed the Szechuwan bridge and began rounding up Nationalist prisoners. The Garden bridge was evacuated by the Nationalists but still was under fire from the nearby Broadway mansion, 17 floor apartment where a number of Americans are trapped. The Communists had not tried to cross the creek there.

It seemed to be only a matter of hours before this tough knot of resistance, which has delayed Communist occupation of north Shanghai, would be wiped out completely.

While the fighting went on, the Communists hastened their organization of Shanghai's western and southern section, which

William Gehringer, 55, Dies At Cornell

The body of William Gehringer, 55, Escanaba business man, was found slumped in the front seat of his car in the garage of his farm near Cornell about noon today by members of the family. They had gone to investigate when he did not return to Escanaba this morning after spending the night at the farm.

Death was believed to have followed a heart attack and to have occurred last night. He was last seen about 7:30 o'clock last evening driving to his farm. It was Mr. Gehringer's habit to spend a couple nights each week at the farm at Cornell, returning to Escanaba early in the morning.

Mr. Gehringer resides at 411 First avenue south. He is the proprietor of Gehringer Heating Service.

State police and Dr. Otto S. Hult, Gladstone coroner, were notified and were making an investigation this afternoon. A physician who was summoned reported that death was apparently due to natural causes. The car door and the garage door were both open.

Truman Labor Bill Action Stepped Up

Washington, May 26 (AP)—Senate Democratic leaders talked today of possibly stepping up the timetable for action on the Truman labor bill.

The talk got started after Senator Taft (R-Ohio) made it known that he has been pressing the Democrats for a quick Senate decision on repeal of the Taft-Hartley law.

Taft said he is standing by his prediction that Congress will throw the administration measure overboard and enact his substitute bill instead.

The substitute would make 28 changes in the Taft-Hartley law, but preserve what Taft calls its basic principles.

The administration bill, on the other hand, would junk the T-H law—a strong purpose of organized labor—and replace it with a modified version of the old Wagner act.

The administration measure already has run into a stone wall in the House, which almost passed a bill designed to keep the main provisions of the Taft-Hartley law. Now the House Democratic leaders are at work on a new compromise.

Congressional Democratic chiefs agreed at a conference with President Truman earlier this week to put a "must" label on three measures—the reciprocal trade agreements bill, the North Atlantic treaty, and labor legislation.

CONSERVATION CHIEF TO STAY

Rahilly Says He Favors P. J. Hoffmaster

Lansing—P. J. Hoffmaster, director of conservation is not to be replaced.

"No new director will be named so far as I am concerned," Joseph P. Rahilly, commissioner of Newberry, said Tuesday.

Since Gov. Williams appointed three Democrats to the commission reports have been current that the department was to be given a complete overhauling and Hoffmaster was slated to go.

The commission is scheduled to meet this week at the Pigeon River headquarters, but, according to Rahilly, the organization business will be postponed for a month because of the illness of Andrew B. Champion of Cass City, new commissioner.

Sees Postponement

"Commissioner Champion will not be present and for that reason I think the election of a chairman and secretary of the commission will be postponed," Rahilly said.

Rahilly is not the only commissioner to belittle the reports of a shakeup.

"I think Director Hoffmaster and the conservation department are the best in the country," said Peter J. Calcatera of Norway, a Williams appointee. "I have known the director for more than 15 years. He is one of the best."

Under the law the commission organizes in April. The governor did not appoint the successors of the three members whose terms expired until this month which caused a delay.

Ordinarily the secretary and chairman of the commission are elected at the April meeting.

Wayland Osgood of Lansing, secretary, will succeed himself and it is expected that Rahilly will be named to succeed Chairman Don B. McLouth of Detroit, who has served two terms.

Osgood has been secretary since March, 1936.

Judge W.J. Miller Memorial Day Talker

Rapid River—Judge William J. Miller will deliver the address at the Memorial Day services which will be held at Rapid River cemetery Monday morning at 9:30 under the sponsorship of Walter Cole Post, American Legion. The services will include music by the high school band and a Legion program. Members of the Legion and Auxiliary will meet at the Legion hall at 8:30 and will march from there to the Rapid River bridge where cars will be waiting to take them to the cemetery.

School Board Studies Building Plans; Site For New Senior High

Four walls and a teacher do not a schoolhouse make, especially in these times and in Escanaba.

That is the conclusion of architects who have been interviewed by the Escanaba board of education in connection with the proposed construction of a new Senior high school building, and a school for handicapped children.

Representatives of ten architectural firms have so far met with the school board, the last three last night. Next step before the board will be the selection of some of the firms for further meetings and discussions, followed by the final selection of a firm to draw plans and specifications for the buildings.

When this will be done, and when the construction contracts will be let, is still problematical. Factors of financing and site have yet to be more fully considered by the board.

Bonding in Prospect

Much of the financing of the new Senior high school and the school for handicapped children will come from bequests for that purpose by the late Mrs. Catherine Bonifas, whose benefactions included $820,000 for public school improvements. Of this total $500,000 is for the construction of a Senior high school building, and $150,000 for a school for handicapped children. The remainder is for Catherine Bonifas Technical school, a Junior college, and for scholarships.

In special meeting last night the board of education indicated the bequests will not be sufficient to entirely finance the Senior high school construction. Bonding of the school district is expected to be necessary for the additional amount. Total costs have not been determined and the subject of financing has not been thoroughy discussed.

Meeting with the board last night were E. H. Berners, Green Bay, of the firm of Foeller, Schober, Berners, Safford & Jahn; Perc Brandt and Hoard McKie of Brandt & Norton, Marquette; and Barhard Schilling and Peter E. Brender of Edward A. Schilling Associates, Detroit.

Large Site Is Urged

In previous meetings the board has considered the question of a site for the proposed Senior high school, but no decision has been made.

Brender of Schilling Associates, Detroit, reviewed his studies in connection with the construction of a school at Centerline in Lower Michigan, and declared the first consideration should be the selection of a building site large enough for 'expansion and flexibility." He advocated a site of "from 40 to 80 acres" for a high school building, but added that local conditions would have to be studied before he could make a recommendation here.

Supt. John A. Lemmer said the "large site" plan is also advocated by the State Department of Public Instruction. The board is expected to confer later with a representative of that department.

All of the architects appearing before the board have been questioned by the board regarding recommended building plans, building materials, lighting, heating, and other equipment and facilities.

The Modern Trend

The newer trend in school buildings is toward one-story structures that can be added to in the future.

Windows are clear glass below, with the upper sections in glass block or directional glass. On the north side of the building clear glass only is used to increase the amount of natural light entering the rooms. There is less problem of direct sunlight glare at north windows.

Roller curtains and venetain blinds are not recommended because they are not adjusted as light conditions change. It is a toss-up on artificial lighting between incandescent and the newer fluorescent. Continued improvement in fluorescent lighting is anticipated. As yet there is no "perfect" system of illumination.

Unit type ventilators, with radiators on outside walls in each room and the temperature controlled by a thermostat in each room, is generally recommended for heating.

Class rooms rectangular in shape, about 40 feet long, with one end set aside for activities, is recommended. The activity room separated from the class room is on its way out.

Ceilings in hallways and classrooms are treated with an acoustical material to reduce distracting noise.

Costs Down Slightly

Maple floors are a little more costly than asphalt tile but will last longer and are considered the "best of all flooring" by some architects. Terazzo or asphalt tile are used in hallways.

Some of the architects reported that building costs were going down—slightly. Contractors are now more interested in new jobs than they were six months ago. Recent school building contracts, in some cases, were as much as $2 per square foot lower in cost than they were last November.

Cost corners are being cut wherever possible. Concrete and cinder block construction eliminates the need of interior plaster —saving $33,000 for plastering in one school.

Not to be overlooked, said the architects, is the need to design a building that will be used afternoons by the public, as well as during the day for school purposes.

POWER RATES ARE PROTESTED

Injunction Threatened By Taxpayer

Attorney Michael O'Hara of Menominee, representing the House of Ludington, appeared before the city council at a special meeting Wednesday afternoon to protest proposed electrical rates for commercial and low power consumers.

O'Hara argued that the city's electrical rate structure returns an excessive profit to the city and that profits from the electric utility are illegally used to finance the city steam plant project. O'Hara threatened to initiate proceedings on behalf of his client for an injunction to prevent the expenditures of city funds for the steam project unless rates for commercial and low power consumers are lowered.

The Menominee attorney proposed an off peak rate of one cent per kilowatt for low power users after 7,000 kilowatts are consumed. The city now provides a one cent rate for off peak electric power used in water heating.

O'Hara charged that Escanaba's rates are higher than those charged in Menominee, where the electric utility is under private ownership. City Manager Aronson challenged this statement, contending that only the first steps in the local rate schedule are higher than Menominee's. The Escanaba rates are considerably lower for users consuming as much electricity as the House of Ludington does, Aronson said.

The council did not complete its action on the utility rates and will meet again Friday afternoon at four o'clock.

DIESEL USED ON ORE TRAIN

Stambaugh To Iron Mt. Run Gets Test

A 3,000 - horsepower Baldwin single-unit diesel locomotive is receiving its initial test in the hauling of an iron ore train from Stambaugh to Iron Mountain today.

Baldwin factory representatives are observing the tests, which will continue a few days. The tests mark the first switch from steam to diesel power in the regular ore train service on the Peninsula division of the Chicago and North Western railway.

The new diesel was given a normal J-4 steam engine load of about 55 cars of ore on the first trip out of Stmabaugh this afternoon. After completing the 38-mile trip to Iron Mountain, it was to return to the mine at Stambaugh. Condr. Owen Boyle' and Engr. John Vandewiele of Escanaba are in charge of the train.

Tomorrow, the diesel will make two turn - around trips between Stambaugh and Iron Mountain. On Saturday, it will make the run all the way from Stambaugh to Escanaba, a distance of 89 miles.

Railroad men will be watching with interest to learn how the new diesel power will pull the ore trains over the big hill at Brule, four miles west of Florence, Wis.

Because of the steep grades between Stambaugh and Iron Mountain, two round trips are necessary on that stretch of track to make up the larger train that comes into Escanaba from Iron Mountain. Steepest grades on the Iron Mountain-Escanaba run are the Sumac hill at Loretto and the Antoine hill.

New U. S. Minister To Hungary Named

Washington, D. C., (AP)—President Truman has nominated Nathaniel P. Davis as minister to Hungary, where this country has had no representation since the trial of Cardinal Mindszenty.

The action set at rest reports that this government might not restore its legation in Hungary.

Davis, now ambassador to Costa Rica, will succeed Selden Chapin, who returned to Washington for "consultations" following the Mindszenty case.

Workers And Farmers Have Money To Invest

New York, N. Y.—Clarence B. Randall, president of Inland Steel Company, told an American Iron and Steel Institute meeting in the Waldorf-Astoria here today that the nation's steel industry needs both money and understanding for future growth and to meet the challenge of the reactionary total state and "has no choice but to turn boldly toward the mass savings of the two most powerful political groups in America, the worker and the farmer."

He said that taxation has made the few remaining rich negligible as a source of money. He cautioned, however, that "we must be really more interested in the new partners than we are in their money."

"That the worker and the farmer have in the aggregate sufficient savings to relieve the capital stress in heavy industry seems to be clear from every authoritative survey," Mr. Randall explained. "But it is equally clear that at present neither of these groups is devoting its savings to the purchase of common stocks of steel companies."

Mr. Randall offered the suggestion that the money and the understanding which he cited as the industry's needs are really one and the same thing. "By this I mean that a man who invests his money with us will automatically get understanding. I know of no stockholder in our business who wants to liquidate the company, or who desires to have it nationalized.

As between the worker and farmer, Mr. Randall said, "The worker must obviously be our primary responsibility. Our first effort must be directed toward him. We know that even on the basis of prewar costs it required $10,000 of new money to provide an extra job, but he doesn't. And if he does, he doesn't see that it is any concern of his."

Mr. Randall continued:

"Quite frankly, I have no idea whatever of how best to sell common stock to the worker. I can, however, suggest some bench marks.

"One thing is certain and that is that there must be no employer pressure. Our job is to explain, and to create an atmosphere of understanding, but the action must be altogether voluntary on the part of the worker. He must take the risk eagerly because his self-interest is aroused, but he must do it with his eyes open. He will obviously need help on the mechanics. Few steel plant employees know the name of a dealer in securities, and yet our objective must be if possible to help educate the public to the usual methods of trade."

Mr. Randall observed that the farmer presents a very special and different problem. He said "it will not be easy to draw him into direct partnership with the steel industry by persuading him to buy our common stocks, but the resulting benefit to the cause of free enterprise will be worth tremendous effort."

Students Like Teacher's Auto

Lawton, Okla. — (AP) — Students who have been taught by Miss Lily Stafford—and ridden in her old jallopy—for the past 29 years are going to show their appreciation.

A "Lily Stafford Appreciation Fund" has been started to purchase the Lawton high schoool science teacher a new car. Miss Stafford now is driving "Joan", her 1930 car which has 71,000 miles. "Joan" is still being used by Miss Stafford to carry students to meets and events.

She said the car was named after Joan d'Arc because "she has risen to the occasion many times."

WALLEYE CATCH REPORTED GOOD

Expect Many Fishermen For Coming Weekend

Many visiting fishermen today are in the Delta county area for the walleye fishing, with the prediction that several hundred more will be attracted here for the fishing this coming Memorial Day weekend.

Limit catches were reported in several places along the shore of Little Bay de Noc within the past few days. It is expected the fishing will improve still more as the weather moderates. High winds have been a handicap except in waters protected by headlands.

Among the visiting fishermen in Delta county today are three from Traverse City. They arrived yesterday afternoon in Escanaba by seaplane and their craft is now beached at the Yacht basin.

Louis Zimmerman, owner and pilot of the craft, is operator of a flight service at Traverse City. His guests are Frank Hoard, district conservation supervisor at Traverse City, and Arnold Engstrom. The men have been fishing at the head of Little Bay de Noc and will return to Traverse City this afternoon.

The long Memorial Day weekend is expected to bring many fishermen here from Lower Michigan, and from Wisconsin and other states. They will find walleye fishing about "average" for this time of year, which means the possibility of limit catches of 10 walleyes a day.

Many resort operators report cabins reserved for the coming weekend, especially those close to the bay fishing areas.

Southern Producers Resume Coal Wage Dickers With Lewis

Bluefield, W. Va., May 26 (AP)—Bargaining for a southern soft coal pact was due to move ahead today after John L. Lewis stalled it 24 hours with a demand that negotiators show their credentials.

Contract talks had barely begun yesterday when the United Mine Workers chief insisted that the southern coal producers association itemize—showing tonnage — the groups it has authority to represent.

This caused adjournment to 3 p. m. (EST) today to allow the credentials committee of two men from each side to finish its work.

Lewis questioned whether the association —weakened by withdrawal of two operators groups from the talks before they started —could speak for enough of the industry to make a contract. The present one runs out June 30.

Fred Alger Willing To Try For Job Of Unpopular Governor

Lansing, May 26. (AP)—Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., said today he is not a candidate for governor but would be willing to "sacrifice" himself as a candidate if necessary.

Clarifying remarks at an Ionia meeting yesterday, Alger said:

"I am disappointed the legislature did not handle the state's fiscal situation because from the standpoint of the next governor he will be in an untenable position. Whatever he does will be wrong.

"He must tax the people in a declining market when money is tight or cut back services so drastically everyone will be angry with him.

"The next governor will be a one-termer on a purely sacrificial basis to restore the government to the (Republican) party," Alger declared.

MSC Plays Return Game With Irish

East Lansing, May 26 (AP) — The Michigan State baseball team will play a return game with Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind., Saturday.

Hanging in the balance will be the Spartan hopes of getting into the district playoffs of the NCAA baseball tournament.

MSC currently has a 10-4 regular season won and lost record. A victory over the Irish would fortify their chances for a bid to the regionals. A loss probably would eliminate them from competition.

Nationalists Try To Cover Flight From Shanghai

they occupied yesterday without a struggle.

Red Armbands Appear

Red soldiers supplemented municipal police who carried over from old jobs under the Nationalists. These policemen simply slipped red armbands over their uniforms to identity themselves with the new regime.

A proclamation in the name of Red leaders Mao Tze-tung and Chu Teh promised the more than 5,000,000 residents of Shanghai that the peoples' lives and property would be protected regardless of social status, religious belief or profession.

It also pledged confiscation of "bureaucratic capital." This is the Reds' term for property owned by the top families of the Kuomintang (Nationalist party).

Shanghai's English language newspapers appeared today without any indications of censorship. They carried news dispatches from the Associated Press and other foreign press associations.

Correspondents filed outgoing news free of censorship. This traffic was handled as usual by government radio stations — and still under the old Nationalist agency name — Chinese Government Radio Administration.

The trick was turned when the Reds got a flanking column behind the bridge defenders and made a simulataneous attack in front.

At 5 p. m. resistance from the embankment building's lower floor was continuing but tenants, including some 500 foreigners, were trying to get the Nationalists there to quit fighting.

Consuls Intercede

The United States and British consulates were trying to intercede with both sides for a ceasefire order to enable trapped foreigners and other non-combatants to escape from the embankment building.

For almost 24 hours small Nationalist forces had kept the Reds away from the bridges.

Peking road was a no-man's land near the bund. So was the lower part of the bund where it runs into Garden bridge, one of the four key spans under Communist assault.

The U. S. consulate general is there—where Peking road and the bund meet.

The battle area embraced some of Shanghai's finest modern buildings north and south of Soochow creek. These include the 16-story broadway mansions, the seven-story embankment building, the post office, the British and Soviet consulates.

Trapped in these buildings were hundreds of foreigners—Americans, British, Portuuese, Netherlanders, French—any many Chinese.

Rifle and machine gun fire splattered against some of the structures. A few bullets punctured them. Two bullets landed in U. S. consul eneral John Cabot's bedroom in the Glenline building.

Inquest Is Ordered In Onaway Killing Of Girl By Brother

Onaway, Mich., May 26 (AP)—A coroner's inquest was called today into the fatal shooting of Betty Jean Stock, aged 9, at the hands of her 12-year-old brother.

The girl, daughter of a Presque Isle county quarry worker, was killed instantly yesterday when a shotgun her brother was handling discharged.

The boy, Junior Herbert Stock, told state police of the Cheboygan post he found his father's gun lying on a bedroom floor. As he was picking it up to put it away, he said, the gun discharged. The blast struck Betty Jean, sitting in the adjoining kitchen, in the neck.

The boy was not held and no charge was placed against him.

After Onaway Coroner H. M. Karr announced he would ask an inquest, however, Prosecutor Louis Jarbou of Presque Isle county said he would recommend the youth be given a sanity examination.

Pilgrimage to Rome Urged During 1950 In Bull From Pope

Vatican City, May 26 (AP)—Pope Pius XII called on the Roman Catholic world today to make a pilgrimage of peace to Rome during the 1950 holy year.

In a papal bull officially proclaiming the holy year, the 73-year-old Pontiff implored that "peace finally return to the hearts of everyone, within domestic walls, in individual nations, in the universal commonwealth of peoples."

A gray-haired prelate read the bull in the great Portico of the Basilica of St. Peter according to ancient custom.

In the bull the Pope warned Pilgrims, who are expected to pour into Rome by the tens of thousands beginning next Christmas eve, not to come for a good time.

"These Pilgrimages must not be made with the mentality of those who travel for pleasure," the Pope said, "but with the spirit of piety which animated the faithful of past centuries who, overcoming obstacles of all kind, often afoot, came to Rome to wash away their sins with tears of sorrow and to implore of God peace and forgiveness."

Foreign Aid Funds To Be Left Alone By House Cutters

Washington, May 26. (AP)—House budget cutters promised today to let a foreign aid money bill go to the senate without major change.

They announced agreement to an administration proposal to let the economic cooperation administration operate during the next year on almost as much money as President Truman requested.

The agreement does not restore any of the $629,730,000 chopped by the appropriations committee from the ECA budget. But it permits the money to be spent in a shorter period than the committee had proposed.

Doctor Denies He Charged $122 For Baby He Fathered

St. Louis, May 26 (AP)—A Pennsylvania doctor said last night that a suit accusing him of fathering a child and billing the woman's husband for delivery of the baby was "filed for revenge and some easy money."

Dr. Paul A. Hinchberger was named in a $50,000 suit filed at Butler, Pa., by Clair W. Hutzler.

Hutzler alleged the doctor was the father of a son born to Mrs. Hutzler six months ago. Hutzler also charged Hinchberger sent a bill to him for $122.50 for the delivery.

The doctor said he had not asked Hutzler to pay "a single cent" for delivery of the baby.

"The suit was filed for revenge and for some easy money I don't have," he said. "It must be made perfectly clear that I at no time took advantage of my professional capacity. I will fight the suit if necessary."

Hinchberger, 37, and Mrs. Hutzler, 31, were found here by reporters. They are sharing an apartment while Hinchberger is taking a medical refresher coure at Washington university.

Mrs. Hutzler has the baby with her.

Both said they would like divorces from their respective spouses.

James MacNaughton, 85, Calumet, Dies

Calumet, Mich., May 26 (AP)—James MacNaughton, 85, president of the Calumet and Hecla Consolidated Copper Company until 1941, died today after a long illness.

A native of Bruce Mines, Canada, Mac Naughton came to the Michigan copper country as an infant. He began work with Calumet and Hecla after attending Oberlin, Ohio, college and the University of Michigan.

He became general manager of the Chapin iron mine at Iron Mountain, Mich., and in 1901 was placed in charge of Calumet and Hecla properties.

Former Governor Comstock Still In Serious Condition

Alpena, Mich., May 26. (AP)—Still in serious condition from his third stroke in recent years, former Governor William A. Comstock was placed in an oxygen tent at Alpena General hospital today.

At the bedside of the 71-year-old former chief executive and Detroit city councilman were his wife, Josephine, and his son, William, III.

Boy Blames Dream For Shooting Two At Cumberland, Md.

Cumberland, Md., May 26 (AP)—A 16-year-old boy who said he got up from a bad dream and shot his brother and sister-in-law was being held here today on a charge of murder.

The sister-in-law, 18-year-old Mrs. Katherine Brewster, died yesterday of two gunshot wounds in the neck. Her 23-year-old husband, Thomas, was shot in the leg.

State's Attorney Morgan C. Harris said the youth, Randolph Brewster, told him he "had a bad dream" while sleeping in his brother's modest home on the outskirts of Cumberland.

After the shootings, Harris said the youth told him he put the victims in his brother's car and took them to a hospital.

Young Brewster then fled in the car after leaving his brother and sister-in-law at the accident room. He was later captured by state police who chased him at an 85-mile-an-hour clip over mountain roads.

Thomas Brewster told police from his hospital bed that he could not explain the sudden shootings. The Brewsters have two sons, 9 months and two years old.

Dr. Bunche Declines Capitol Post, Goes Back to Palestine

Washington, May 26 (AP) — A grandson of a Negro slave returned to his work today as "peacemaker of Palestine" after turning down a chance to become an assistant secretary of state.

Dr. Ralph H. Bunche called on President Truman yesterday and was offered the top-ranking post in government.

It was a "very great honor," the 44-year-old Negro assured Mr. Truman, but he could not see his way clear to accept it.

To reporters, afterwards, Bunche assigned two reasons: His desire to continue his work with the United Nations, and his inability to give his children a college education while working in Washington for the $10,000 salary paid assistant secretaries of state. This salary is subject to federal income taxes, whereas he now draws $14,000 tax-free as director of the United Nations' Trusteeship Division.

Bunche is now serving as acting mediator and head of the United Nations mission in Palestine.

William V. Cassidy, Of Rapid River, Dies

William Vincent Cassidy, 44, of Rapid River, died at 9:55 last night in St. Francis hospital of a gun shot wound suffered Monday afternoon.

Mr. Cassidy was born Dec. 20, 1904, in Zearing, Ill. He was employed as a city freight agent with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railway and was a member of the Chicago Transfer club and St. Charles church, Rapid River. He was married to Dorothy Gerlach, of Rapid River.

Besides his wife, he leaves two sons, William, jr., and Hugh Michael, and a daughter, Marihelen, of Rapid River; his mother, Mrs. John Cassidy, of Arlington, Ill., and two brothers, Joseph and Louis, of Princeton.

The body was taken to Skradski's funeral home in Gladstone and will be removed to the family home in Rapid River Friday afternoon. The rosary will be recited there at 8 Friday night.

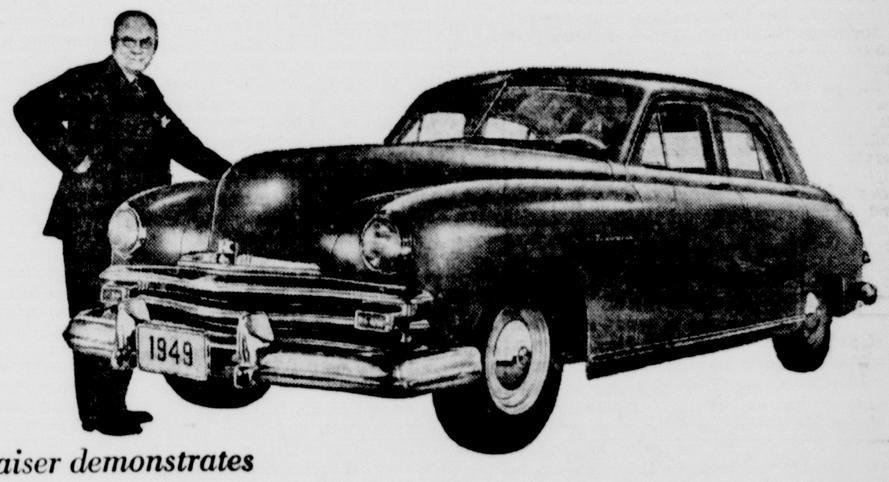

Funeral services will be held in St. Charles church at 9 Saturday morning and burial will be in the Rapid River cemetery.

Gladstone and Rapid River American Legion posts will participate in military bural rites.

Drivers Unhurt in Minor Car Mishap

Gladstone, May 26.—Cars driven by Ivan Kobasic, of Escanaba, and William S. Skellenger, of Gladstone, collided on US-2-41 near Gladstone yesterday. The automobiles were slightly damaged, but none was injured. Skellenger was traveling north, and Kobasic was driving south.

the 2-cars-in-one Kaiser Traveler world's most useful car...$2088

"Here's how we've put two cars in reach of every American family." Henry J. Kaiser

Henry J. Kaiser, Chairman, Kaiser-Frazer Corporation

Mr. Kaiser says: "Salesmen, farmers, small businessmen...every thrifty, 1949 American likes to ride in style, but needs a roomy cargo-carrier, too.

"So we designed the Kaiser Traveler, 2-cars-in-1. It's a big sedan seating 6 in sofa comfort, on a 123½ inch wheelbase.

"You change the Kaiser Traveler into its 'overalls' in only ten seconds. You use no tools, no bolts. Just fold down the rear seat, open the hatch, drop the tail-gate, and there's a 10-foot steel-shod cargo compartment. With 3 passengers, it gives over 130 cubic feet of cargo space. With 6 passengers, over 78 cubic feet. That's lots of room!

"And there's plenty of power for any job. The quiet, giant-sized Kaiser engine is a real gas-saver, with its highest compression ratio of 7.3-to-1.

"Now why buy any car that is less useful, when the Kaiser Traveler costs only $2088*? Write me what you think about it. Address me, Henry J. Kaiser, at Willow Run, Michigan."

Little Bay de Noc Is Precious Asset

YESTERDAY'S issue of the Escanaba Daily Press contained the concluding article in a series of three prepared by City Manager A. V. Aronon explaining the city's water problem and the results of the city's study seeking a reliable and adequate source of water supply.

The conclusion to be drawn from the series of artcles is that although there is no inexpensive solution to the water problem, Escanaba can regard itself as being extremely fortunate in being located on the shore of Lake Michigan.

We do have an inexhaustible source of potable water, comparatively soft and ideal from almost every standpoint of quality, right at our doorstep. The Great Lakes cities, in fact, are the envy of innumerable communities in the United States that are wrestling with water problems that are really acute. Underground water tables are becoming seriously low throughout the entire United States, so much so, in fact, that industries located in some of those areas are finding it necessary to move to locations where ample water supplies are assured for years to come.

Escanaba is doubly fortunate in the fact that not only are we located in easy access to the tremendous volume of water of Lake Michigan, but also we are situated in a place on Lake Michigan where we are not confronted with the pollution problem that exists in so many other localities.

Little Bay de Noc is truly a tremendous natural resource. It not only provides us with world-famous fishing, great scenic beauty, a fine lake shipping port and wonderful recreational facilities, but it also yields an unlimited supply of the world's most precious commodity, potable water for community use.

Marquette Has City Manager Troubles

MARQUETTE'S city manager, Mr. Pollock, has resigned to accept a position elsewhere. Normally this item of news would be of only nominal interest in Escanaba. City managers do change jobs occasionally, just as bankers, newspapermen and others in various types of occupations do. In fact, the average period in which a city manager remains in the same job is much less than workers in other professions.

The Marquette situation, however, is somewhat unique and it is that fact that increases local interest in the developments of the city manager system in Marquette.

Marquette has a city manager system but without a charter that fulfills the best opportunities for success of the manager-council form of government. The manager's authority in the executive phase of city government depends entirely upon the degree of authority that the council imposes upon him—or restricts him. There are no guaranteed rights of authority laid down by charter.

Under this plan the city manager system can work smoothly and efficiently only if the council is willing to pass along to the manager the rights of executive authority that the charter actually places in the hands of the council. When the council removes the manager's authority, as it has done or at least threatened to do in Marquette, the manager is stymied from doing an effective job of management.

One of the principal issues in the Marquette controversy, perhaps the most important one, is whether the council opponents of the manager actually had the manager, Mr. Pollock, as their target or whether their main target is the manager form of government.

Single Purchasing Agency Proposed

THE demand of Senator Morse of Oregon that a single purchasing agency be established for all branches of the United States armed services is one in which a good many Americans will concur.

Unification of the armed services was supposed to create economy in military purchases by eliminating the competition of the three services bidding against each other. It failed to do that, however, and each of the separate services continues individual procurement departments.

There is little defense of the present system which is continued only because of the jealousies of the three services. The system breeds waste and extravagance. It pushes prices higher because of the competitive bidding between the three services, but the American taxpayer foots the bill for all three.

Senator Morse has insisted that the armed services unity bill now before the senate include a provision requiring the armed services to get together on their purchasing.

Military expenditures in the fiscal year beginning July 1 are estimated at $16 billion. An improved budgeting system might lop off as much as one and a half billion dollars, Secretary of Defense Johnson has estimated.

Tax groggy Americans can only hope that the economies will become fact and not simply fiction.

Had Your Fruit Juice Today?

AN eastern medical paper reports that excessive amounts of hemoglobin, the protein that carries iron and gives blood its red color, are being quickly reduced in hospital practice by the administration of fruit juices and water, in quantities of six to eight tall glasses a day.

The sticky hemoglobin is believed to be one of the causes of coronary thrombosis, a disease which takes a larger toll each year. It has been found that thrombosis and thick, sticky blood go together in dozens of cases, and that plenty of fruit juice and water, and eating more fruits and vegetables and less meat, tend to decrease the hemoglobin rapidly.

An authority in a large western clinic is quoted as saying that at least one-half of the numerous ailing patients arriving from all parts of the country plainly show the effects of dehydration—that is, they have not been drinking enough water to keep themselves in even a fair state of health.

He says that unless the adult human frame is given six to eight glasses of water daily or their equivalent, disease is bound to strike at the weakest point. Also that the clinic doctors believe this omission to be one of the greatest causes of human ills.

It stands to reason that viscid and sticky human blood, not properly thinned down with life-giving water, is going to be a good deal harder for the heart to pump and keep pumping. The laxative effects of fresh fruit juices, plus plenty of water, cannot help being beneficial to the great majority.

It is strange indeed that so many people neglect this, the basic rule of good health. But it is doubtless a fact that thousands of people start downhill physically by failure to drink more water daily.

AN EXACTING JOB
(Iron Mountain News)

Don Smith, secretary of the Iron Mountain-Kingsford chamber of commerce for the last 14 years, expects to leave, next fall, for North Carolina. He has revealed nothing about his work-plans, but has indicated to his friends that he may not reenter the chamber of commerce field.

If Secretary Smith ultimately decides that he has had all the public-relations experience he wants for whatever he plans to do, it would not be surprising. Chamber of commerce work, as a profession, is a rough job in many ways, but principally because a secretary is every man's servant, and every man is his boss.

Smith has had his critics, and some of the most severe among them have not even been chamber members, or employed by organizations that are members. They have, nevertheless, felt it their privilege to speak their minds rather frankly.

Don Smith, we think, would be among the first to say that he has not always guessed right, because no man has ever been able to do that. We desire, therefore, while he is still with us, to say that in our opinion he has been right more often than wrong, and has done a superior job as chamber secretary.

We reiterate that his is a tough job. It calls for all the tact, diplomacy and judgment that could possibly be expected of one man. Also, it draws heavily upon the energy, patience and tolerance of any man who is sincerely trying to do a good job. A secretary feels rather highly rewarded if he is able to keep a small segment of his membership and of the community happy at any one time, or for any considerable period of time.

We believe Don Smith has done this, and considerably more.

Finally, we greatly appreciate the secretary's consistent cooperation with The News during his long tenure, and to wish him every success in whatever field he may enter.

The moment you are admitted through a friend's door it's time to stop knocking.

Take My Word For It . . Frank Colby

LET'S DO RIGHT BY THE 'AITCHES'

From Berkeley, Calif., comes this Pet Speech Peeve, cleverly rhymed by Mrs. Cleone Montgomery, who will receive an autographed copy of my New Handbook.

Some blame the cockney much for sinning
By dropping 'h' at the beginning.
But why should it so sadly trouble you
To sound an 'h' right after 'w'?
If I'm expecting 'whens' and 'whichs,'
I'm much alarmed by 'wens' and 'witches.'
When 'w'ats' and 'w'ys' bombard by ear,
It's always 'watts' and 'wise' I hear.
And startling thoughts result when 'where'
Gets all confused with 'wear' or 'ware.'
Let's start a drive to right these wrongs,
And put that 'h' wHere it belongs.

Now I am not prepared to state flatly that the dropped "h" is incorrect in the pronunciation of such words as when, what, while, where, etc. The authorities state that the dropped "h" is now the rule in standard Southern Brfitish, and appears to be spreading to America.

Be that as it may. However, there is no doubt that a great many people regard "w'en, w'at, w'ile, w'ere" as careless, if not exactly slovenly. For that reason public speakers and broadcasters will do well to make a little extra effort and sound the "h" in all the proper words.

It must be noted, however, that when the "h" is sounded it comes before, and not after, the sound of "w." The word "when," for example, is pronounced hwen, "what" is pronounced hwat, and so on.

Sounding the 'h" is desirable for another reason: it serves to distinguish when from wen, what from watt, while from wile, and where from wear and ware, which from witch, wheel from weal, whale from wale, whet from wet, whether from weather, whey from way, Whig from wig, whine from wine, whither from wither.

* * *

Indeed, most of our wh- words were originally spelled hw-: why was "hwy," white was "hwit," where was "hwaer," what was "hwaet," etc. It isn't clear why "h" was placed after "w" in modern spelling; but it was, and we'll have to accept it with as good grace as we may.

It is interesting to note that "w" is never pronounced in these wh- words: why, whole, wholly, whom, and whose. And why "o" has the sound of "oo" in who, whom, and whose is anybody's guess. English is like that.

* * *

Are "have got" and "have gotten" evef correct? Mr. Colby's leaflet, C-2 explains the constructions in which these phrases may be used correctly. Send 5c in coin, and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to him, care of Escanaba Daily Press, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Forrestal Was Much-Maligned

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Childs

Washington.—If human beings are capable of learning from experience, then there is an important lesson to be learned from the tragedy of James Forrestal. It gets down to the real meaning of that tragedy which has scarcely been touched on in the comment on the last act of despair.

Forrestal had come to believe that he was being persecuted. This took such an exaggerated form as to be a major symptom of his mental illness.

But to perfectly rational observers it was evident that, in the last months he served as secretary of national defense, Forrestal was under an attack that amounted to persecution. Certain press and radio commentaors had set out to "get Forrestal." While their motives may have been clothed in sublime self-righteousness, the facts nevertheless speak for themselves.

How much these attacks had to do with driving Forrestal out of office nuo one can say. He had undertaken, as he himself came to understand, an impossible assignment as the first secretary of defense, responsible for carrying out unification. When he left, he was a broken and defeated man.

SNIPING AT LILIENTHAL

Today the same kind of a press and radio attack is being directed at David Lilienthal, chairman of the Atomic Energy commission. It comes from quite different elements of press and radio. It has not yet reached the degree of personal innuendo and vilification that characterized the windup of the Forrestal campaign.

But the motivation seems to be the same—to "get Lilienthal." If he cannot be driven out of office, then an atmosphere will be created in which it will be impossible for him to serve further when his term expires a year from this June 30.

The parallels seem to me to be too important to be ignored. In a sense Lilienthal's assignment, as the first chairman of the first civilian commission to take over the enormously difficult and complicated and frighteningly secret atomic project, is as "impossible" as Forrestal's task.

Forrestal was attacked as a symbol of big business and high finance with constant innuendo about deals in oil. Lilienthal is attacked as a symbol of the New Deal and the radicalism of the Roosevelt administration, with repeated hints that because of his political convictions he cannot be trusted with secrets involving the nation's security.

CAMPAIGN ORGANIZED

The outlines of the campaign are fairly clear. The loss of a minute quantity of uranium-235 was exaggerated and blown up out of all proportion even after official denial had rejected the invented thesis of espionage and theft with which the story was first heralded. Similarly the Freistadt scholarship was given the most exaggerated prominence by those who deliberately seek to discredit Lilienthal and thereby civilian administration of the life-giving or death-dealing force that science has unleashed.

I heard one of the instigators of this campaign boast some time ago about the material being assembled that would be used to "get Lilienthal." As a kind of climax to this stage of the attack, Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa has called on Lilienthal to resign. One must credit Hickenlooper with the most conscientious motives, yet the timing of his statement admirably served the campaign.

Press and radio in this country have great power. They dig out the news with a vigor and initiative seen in no other country. But the abuse of that power—when it descends to personal bigotry and personal feud—is a clear and present danger.

The end result may be to drive out of public office capable and conscientious men to the extent that we shall have left only timid hacks or military automatons. This is not to argue that Forrestal was the perfect secretary of defense or that Lilienthal is the perfect chairman of the AEC.

FODDER FOR RUSSIA

It has seemed to many that the commission should tell the public far more than it has about the project as a whole and the atomic bomb. But consider what happens to Lilienthal when he tries to do that as was done in the commission's last annual report. Ignorant and prejudiced men in the senate raised a violent outcry that secrets were being given away.

So the commission is caught betwixt and between. Lilienthal is a convenient and conspicuous target. The attack warms up, spiced with malice as yet hardly discernable but more of that can be ladled in later on. Here is an abuse of the democratic process that can jeopardize democracy itself. No wonder the Soviet propaganda radio gets so much useful fodder for the Russian effort to prove to the world that we are a panic-stricken people obsessed with fear.

It's a Gift, Son!

Good Evening
By Clint Dunathan

VENEREAL DISEASE —Medical historians do not agree when or where syphilis originated. Some of them think Columbus and his crew contracted the disease from West Indian women. Columbus himself died in 1506, two years after he returned from his last voyage to the New World — and his symptoms were all those "of late, fatal syphilis."

Dunathan

There is one thing on which medical authorities today are in agreement: "Syphilis is a treacherous and dangerous disease, requiring concerted effort to discover its unsuspecting victims."

And there is this shocking report by Dr. John A. Cowan, director division of tuberculosis and venereal disease control, Michigan department of Health, in the Michigan Educational Journal for April:

"In Michigan, during 1948, there were 1,597 reported cases of syphilis and gonorrhea among 10 to 19-year-olds."

* * *

IN HIGH SCHOOLS—Dr. Cowan continues:

"A substantial majority of these reported cases is in the 15-to-19-year group. If we apply this figure to the senior-high-school enrollment of approximately 260,000, it means that six in 1,000 of our high school youth contract venereal diseases each year.

"But we must analyze further to discover why VD among teenagers is a matter of serious concern to our public health agencies. This concern stems largely from the fact that 14 per cent of all infectious cases of syphilis and gonorrhea in this State are among the 10-to-19-year age group."

* * *

THE FACTS— The Michigan Education Journal is the official publication of the Michigan Education Association. Michigan teachers and educators are MEA members. Directing the attention of an Escanaba school official to the article, he told me, "I don't doubt it at all."

The report of Dr. Cowan is startling and frankly shocking in its presentation of case histories of venereal disease among promiscuous teen-agers.

"A 15-year-old girl gave syphilis to a 14-year-old boy. He in turn transmitted the disease to three teen-age girls, and so on. Starting with the 15-year-old girl, there were, within three months, 37 cases of infectious syphilis and two illegitimate pregnancies— all among high school boys and girls."

* * *

STATISTICS—Here are statistics at random from Dr. Cowan's report:

A new case of veneral disease is contracted in the State of Michigan every 24 minutes.

For every child permanently crippled by polio, there are 29 permanently crippled by syphilis.

There were only 29 deaths from polio in 1947 as contrasted to 502 deaths from syphilis.

There are more than 2,400 persons confined in mental institutions in this state as the result of syphilis.

There were 21,548 cases of venereal disease reported in 1948 in Michigan, and these cases could have been sources of infection to more than 64,000 others.

In Michigan, syphilis and gonorrhea are the leading serious communicable diseases with the exception of measles.

* * *

COMMUNICABLE— About the only way an individual can contract venereal disease is through sexual contact with an infected person.

Programs without regard for moral prevention are comparatively useless. Talk about the modern penicillin treatment as a cure-all for veneral disease is not the answer to the problem. Sexual promiscuity is the villain in the picture. For no matter how quick or effective the treatment may be, reinfection is quicker.

Dr. Cowan, citing case histories, declares that many teen-age girls "show a tragic lack of moral sense." These cases illustrate the fact that a venereal disease problem exists among school children in Michigan, he said.

* * *

CONTROL—To be effective a venereal disease control program must get at the social ills which are a deeprooted cause, rather than making the program one of case finding and treating cases as they occur.

Moral prevention must be emphasized; it must hit hard at illigitimacy, sexual promiscuity, and juvenile delinquency. The increasing divorce rate must be recognized "as symptomatic of a disease called social maladjustment."

"In brief, the problem merits, and an effective VD control program calls for, a co-ordination of the best efforts of health department, private physicians, parents, teachers, ministers, civic leaders, business men, and welfare and recreational groups in each community," Dr. Cowan reported.

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba—Leonard Sundquist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Sundquist, has been elected president of the Omicron Sigma Omicron social fraternity of Augustana college for the coming year.

He also has been chosen treasurer of the student union and manager of the Augustana Observer, official student publication.

Gladstone—Rev. Arnold Thompson, son of Mrs. Olive Thompson, will be ordained to the holy priesthood at St. Peter Cathedral in Marquette June 3. Father Thompson will sing his first mass at All Saints Catholic church here June 4.

Manistique— Mr. and Mrs. James Rogers of Gulliver are the parents of a daughter born May 25 at Shaw hospital.

Public Forum

Is Andy Olafson III?

Dear Editor:

I think the Public Forum is a fine addition to the Daily Press. It gives the people an opportunity to voice their gripes as well as give helpful information to the public. I wish for it the greatest success.

But gosh O Maggie, what happened to Andy P. Olafson's great ambition? His plans for the bridge to Stonington. To build that bridge would be of a great advantage to him, not only to keep his feet dry but to get over there to construct his snoose ball and track-soup factories. Now these are admirable projects and shouldn't be dropped. It would solve the unemployment problem for years to come.

The bridge, if properly constructed, would eliminate the bumps, keep his feet dry and with all the water available, I'm sure he can figure out some kind of sprinkler system to keep the dust down. If he can't I'm sure the Forum would be glad to make suggestions.

I suggest Mrs. Olafson give Andy some sulphur and molasses. I think he must have a bad case of spring fever. I just had my dose and I feel my imagination returning. It would be a great loss to the U. P. if Andy—may the Good Lord take a liking to him —lost his ambition.

For the good of the community,
"Mia".

Fire Protection Needed

Dear Editor:

The destruction of the Arthur Barber home in Engadine last Friday is another example of the need of fire fighting equipment in this community. Last year the writer did his best to interest the Garfield township board in the purchase of fire fighting equipment. They were not interested at the time, stating there were no funds for the purpose. How many fires or how much loss must the taxpayers of Garfield township sustain before we awaken to the fact that some sort of fire equipment is an absolute "must" for the protection of the people.

Ray Butler,
Engadine, Mich.

Good Public Service

Dear Editor:

Congratulations to WDBC for their radio broadcasts of the city council meetings. I believe our radio station is doing a fine job in bringing the exact statements of the councilman at these meetings and their disposition of the matters that come before them.

The people of Escanaba are taking more interest in city government now than they ever did before because of these radio broadcasts. The important topics discussed at the meetings and the information contained in the broadcasts gives the people an opportunity to learn the operation of city government and to show them some of the problems faced by the council, as well as the big job it is to try and run the complex operation of the city.

I believe the city council and our radio station are to be publicly commended for the fine job they are doing in behalf of the Escanaba taxpayers.

A Taxpayer.

So They Say

We must continue to strive toward supremacy in air power, both as an instrument in defending this country from the horrors of war and as a deterrent to any possible aggressors.— Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Pearson

Washington.—Before Secretary of State Acheson left for Paris, he stopped by Capitol Hill for some last-minute, parting advice, which will shed light on some of the policies the United States will follow at the big four conference.

Two big questions came up during the hour-long, closed-door conference:

1. How far should we go in conciliating Russia?
2. Where should we draw the line on German recovery?

Senator Vandenberg of Michigan cautioned the secretary of state against taking too stern a stand with the Russians. He agreed we mustn't give ground or show signs of appeasement, but at the same time he urged keeping an open mind to any honest peace overtures. His attitude was that we shouldn't "burn the last bridge."

Senator Thomas of Utah was blunt and to the point about rebuilding Germany. "Is there any feeling anywhere," he asked, "that we should rearm Germany as a buffer against Russia?"

Acheson assured not, but Thomas kept hammering this point home. He warned that Germany, when she gets her strength back, might side with Russia; that Germany has closer ties to the east than the west; that the Germans even started rebuilding their army and navy across the Russian border after World War I. Thousands of Germans actually worked inside Russia until Hitler bit the hand that was helping him, Thomas recalled.

WATCHING GERMAN FACTORIES

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts argued that we should strengthen Germany's economy without building up her warmaking capacity. To prevent a resurrection of German military power, he demanded that Acheson insist upon a close watch on Germany's forces and factories.

The secretary of state promised this would be done. He added that Russia would have nothing to say about the Ruhr, since she got nothing from the Ruhr in peacetime.

"What do you mean by Russia?" Senator Thomas broke in. "If you mean the satellite states, then Russia has all the interest in the world in the Ruhr."

Central European countries, now behind the iron curtain, he added, always did a big business with the Ruhr, which would give Russia a voice in deciding the fate of the Ruhr, which would give Russia a voice in deciding the fate of the Ruhr.

Acheson and Vandenberg also engaged in a brief dispute over whether the right-of-way to Berlin had been definitely spelle dout in the Potsdam agreement. Vandenberg argued that it hadn't been put in "contractual form," and urged the secretary of state to see that our right-of-way to Berlin is now made clear at Paris.

FDR, JR., "GOING PLACES"

No one fought the election of Franklin Roosevelt, Jr., harder than Vito Marcantonio, sale American Labor representative in congress. The bouncing, brilliant legislater from Manhattan stumped the Twentieth district, trying to defeat the namesake of the late FDR.

But after it was all over and the votes showed young Roosevelt to be the overwhelming victor, Congressman Marcantonio met Congressman Chet Holifield of California on the floor of the house. Quoth he:

"You want to get aboard with Franklin Roosevelt. He's really going places."

Note—Young Roosevelt's victory in New York will be a big psychological boost to his older brother in California where Jimmie plans to run gor governor.

CIO HOUSECLEANING

CIO President Philip Murray's attack on Communists and fellow travelers last week was even tougher than appeared in the papers.

It was so devastating that the Communist party-liners were thrown into complete confusion and, at one point, Ben Gold, president of the left-wing Fur Workers Union, became so disgusted with his fellow leftists he went out for a round of drinks. Returning, Gold stood up and denounced Harry Bridges, shouting:

"I know the party line just as well as you do."

At another point Murray administered the crowning blow. With an eye at the New York trial of Communist leaders wherein the justice department has produced scores of Communists who were actually government agents, Murray arose and asked the Commie faction:

"How many of you are really FBI agents?"

RFC PROBE

Arkansas' hard-working Senator William Fulbright, chairman of a banking and currency subcommittee, will make a sweeping probe of certain officials of the Reconstruction Finance corporation who were given plush jobs with business firms shortly after these firms got loans from the RFC.

Fulbright is chiefly interested in John Hagerty, former head of the Boston RFC office, who got a $20,000-a-year job with the Waltham Watch company after he had helped the company get a big government loan. He is also interested in Sterling Foster, former RFC Washington official, who got an $18,000-a-year job under similar circumstances from the Plywood Plastics corporation of Hampton, S. C.

REAL ESTATE LOBBY

Between 1,500 and 2,000 members of the real estate lobby have invaded Washington for the biggest fight against the public housing bill since the famous power-trust battle against the holding company act.

Heaviest pressure will be exerted on Southern Democrats, whom the lobby has been trying to "soften up" with full-page ads in local newspapers and a flood of lobby-inspired letters and telegrams.

No pressure is necessary against the Republicans, whose leaders have evolved a secret strategy for killing housing. No longer will ex-Speaker Joe Martin and Charlie Halleck of Indiana charge that public housing is "socialistic," but rather that it should not be passed "right now." public housing is "socialistic."

FISHING IN THE PARK — While the grownups were fishing for walleyes in the waters extending from Breezy Point to Garden, many youngsters were enjoying the hooking of no limit of bullheads at the Ludington park beach last weekend. Here are Carlton Larson, 615 First avenue south, and Jim Wunder, Bark River Rt. 1, with their catch of about sixty bullheads. In the background may be seen other youngsters busily engaged at bullhead fishing.

Gwinn Sends Pupils To Wells Park Camp

The Gwinn public schools will send 30 pupils to the Wells Outdoor Education Camp this summer for a period of one week.

The Youth Camp will officially open Monday, July 11 and close Saturday, August 13.

The camp fee per child will be the same as last year or $10.00 per child per week. Parents generally pay $5.00 for each of their children and most boards of education pay the balance of $5.00 per child. Parents should contact their board of education before making application for the camp to determine if the board will pay part of the cost.

Children will be accepted in the camp if the parents pay the full fee of $10.00 for each child enrolled. Pupils in grades 4 to 8 inclusive will be accepted. Requests for camp enrollments should be mailed to the superintendent of schools, Stephenson, Michigan.

Gucky Will Speak At Chassell H. S.

Joseph B. Gucky, superintendent of the Stephenson public schools, will deliver the commencement address at the graduation exercises of the Chassell public schools in Chassell on Wednesday evening, May 26.

The title of his address was "Getting Things Done."

Heart Attack Fatal To William Cleary, Former Escanaban

William Cleary, 52, of 1942 South 90th street, West Allis, Wis., a former resident of Escanaba, died unexpectedly of a heart attack Tuesday morning at his home.

Mr. Cleary was born in Escanaba, the family living here at 812 First avenue south.

He is survived by his wife, the former Florence Shy of Escanaba, two children by a former marriage, Mrs. Stephen Zepezauer and Walter of West Allis, three grandchildren and one sister in Spokane, Wash.

Services are being held at St. Aloysius church in West Allis at 10 Friday morning and the body will be brought to Escanaba and taken to the Allo funeral home where friends of the family may call Saturday morning from 9 to 11. Burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery.

Long Distance Phone Service To Be Extended

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company today announced a proposal to expand long distance facilities in the western part of the Upper Peninsula.

Michigan Bell and the Wisconsin Telephone company, also a Bell System affiliate have petitioned the Federal Communications Commission for permission to add toll channels between Marinette, Wis., and Houghton, Mich., via Escanaba.

The additional circuits would be provided, for the most part, by installation of special "carrier" equipment which permits one pair of telephone lines to carry three messages simultaneously.

Construction of some new lines, however, would be involved between Menominee and Bark River. In all cases some rearrangement of facilities between the Michigan and Wisconsin companies and the American Telephone & Telegraph Company would be necessary.

It is estimated that the new facilities would cost $87,500 and provide 18 additional channels of communication totaling about 3,000 channel miles.

The FCC application pointed out that the new circuits serve the mining, lumbering, and resort areas of Northern Michigan and would provide faster toll service with points outside the state.

Scholarships Are Awarded By M.S.C. To U.P. Graduates

Michigan State College scholarships for the 1949-1950 school year have been awarded to 364 high school seniors in 71 Michigan counties, according to Prof. A. J. Clark, chairman of the MSC scholarship committee.

The grants, made from a total application list of over 600, were awarded on basis of an honor scholastic average, financial need and good citizenship characteristics displayed in high school. The scholarships cover total course fees at Michigan State for one year, although they may be renewed for a total of four years if the student maintains a high scholastic average, Prof. Clark said.

The awards are the first to be made under a new scholarship plan accepted by MSC in February. A total of 750 scholarships are available under the present program, compared to 64 which were previously awarded each year.

The recipients of these scholarships, listed by counties and the high schools they attended, are as follows:

Alger—Leslie E. Niemi, Chatham; Ronald Bengtson, Munising.

Baraga—Genevieve Heikkinen, Baraga; Richard K. Ward, Baraga.

Chippewa — Laurel Fountain, Pickford; Mary B. Vail, Sault Ste. Marie.

Delta—Charles J. Neumeier, Escanaba; John Beaumier, Escanaba; Marilyn J. Bredahl, Gladstone; Patricia J. Olive, Gladstone.

Dickinson—Cynthia A. Ring, Iron Mountain; Paul R. Larson, Kingsford.

Gogebic—Betty Beckman, Bessemer; Donald Skwor, Bessemer.

Houghton—Alma Brewer, Calumet; Alden R. Tapio, Chassell; Dorothy H. Smith, Hancock.

Iron—Margaret A. Smith, Iron River.

Marquette—William B. Chubb, Marquette; Carol Lehto, Negaunee.

Menominee—Harry W. Theuerkauf, Menominee; Roy W. Theuerkauf, Menominee; Virginia Moker, Stephenson.

Ontonagon—Katherine Daniels Ontonagon.

Gessner Named Delta Chairman Of U-M Campaign

Charles H. Gessner, of Escanaba, has been appointed chairman for Delta County in the Michigan Memorial-Phoenix Project Campaign, it was announced today by Walter F. Gries of Ishpeming, chairman for the region comprising 15 counties in the Upper Peninsula. The campaign is nationwide to raise $6,500,000 for the establishment of an atomic research center at the University of Michigan.

Mr. Gries announced that he has now appointed chairmen for all 15 counties, the first region in the country to complete its organization to this level.

Other county chairmen named are:

Alger county, Richard W. Nebel, Munising; Baraga county, Napoleon J. Martin, Baraga; Chippewa county, George A. Osborn, Sault Ste. Marie; Dickinson county, Charles M. Sleder, Iron Mountain, Gogebic county, Charles M. Humphrey jr., and Bernard Larson, Ironwood, co-chairman.

Houghton county, William G. Thielman, Calumet; Iron county, Dr. John R. Davidson, Crystal Falls; Keewenaw county, Dr. William T. King, Ahmeek; Luce county, Dr. Earl H. Campbell, Newberry; Mackinac County, Oren K. King, St. Ignace; Marquette county, James J. Backman, Marquette; Menominee county, Dr. Harold L. Mead, Menominee; Ontonagon county, Roy L. Muskatt, Ontonagon; Schoolcraft county, Mrs. J. J Herbert, Manistique.

A place to carry radar equipment on airplanes without using valuable cargo space has been discovered. It is at the wing-tips, in bomb-like casing similar to the tanks used on jet planes to carry extra fuel.

Ticket Scalpers Busy On Broadway

By ROBERT C. RUARK

New York — While I stand stanchly for motherhood and deplore all crime, in addition to loving dogs, cats and children, I have had a real rough time working up any indignation over the theater ticket-scalping "scandal" which has shaken our town to its whatever you shake a town to.

Gad, Abercrombie, I even failed to register alarm when the sacred names of the Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Union League, University, Racquet and Tennis, River and New York Athletic clubs were swept into this unsavory mess which has managed to dwarf world news for a good three weeks. Can it be that my indignatin corpuscles have shrunk?

The snide suspicion is that the legitimate theaters which have hit plays on their lucky little hands are doing business with ticket-speculators, who in turn peddle priceless tickets to jays at priceless prices. This is supposed to be so outrageous that they threatened to close "South Pacific" and now make threatening gestures at "Kiss Me, Kate." The investigators also want to know how come the members of the afore mentioned clubs can just call up a ticket spec and get seats for the hits merely by paying a markup. Formidable!

The man who sells my theater tickets (at a reasonable margin of profit) tells me that the special performance of "South Pacific" given a week or so ago commanded $200 per seat, and the customers were crying for the privilege to pay.

I do not think this is really wicked, somehow. Anybody who is sucker enough to pay 200 bucks for anything he can't take home with him deserves his trimming, and power to the trimmers. The purchaser is only buying braggadocio, and he will get his money back 20 times in boastful recapitulation.

Anything you want to say about a guy who speculates in food, clothes, rent or even semi-necessity I will indorse double, and sharpen the sword for. But getting sore at a man who deals in expanded entertainment tickets is roughly comparable to knocking a jeweler for upping the price of green diamonds. Or tilting the price tag on yachts over 100 feet long.

Boy and man, I have hung around the show shops for years, and never did I see a customer forced at gun-point to enter a theater. I never heard of a ticket spec who forced his client to buy two on the aisle for Bobby Clark or Tallulah Bankhead. Oklahoma! was a gem, but it had very little bearing on the state of the nation's food, shelter or defense.

A brace of ducats for "South Pacific" today is more than two seats for a musical play. It is the exhibitionist's idenification. Man wants to brag a little, wants to preen his plumage in front of the girl, wants to impress a client, wants to cut a big figure in the nightclub sector—pays a fat price and flashes two for "S. P." makes him a big man in his own mind. Why cheat him of the thrill of paying a yard for a ticket worth four bucks?

Receive Forms For Tax Value Reports

Delta County Clerk J. Theodore Ohlen has received from Louis Nims, chairman of the state tax commission, Lansing, new forms on which assessors of the cities and townships are to report any changes in the tax rolls. These reports are to be made before the end of June.

The forms provide space for reports from each township's supervisor and city assessor on new real and personal property and real and personal property losses for the past year. A total for 1949 also is to be reported. Copies go to the state and to the county, the latter to assist the equalization committee of the county board at its June meeting.

The first use of glass in windows is believed to have taken place about the beginning of the Christian era.

OBITUARY

LT. ALLEN OSTERBERG

Reburial services for Lt. Allen Osterberg were held yesterday afternoon at the Anderson funeral home with Rev. Hyde Park School Plaque Placed To Honor Roosevelt

Hyde Park, N. Y., (AP)—A bronze plaque honoring Franklin D. Roosevelt has been placed in the big granite building of the Roosevelt School where the late President first went to school.

The plaque was unveiled Sunday by his widow as a crowd of 4400—including Senators and school children—stood by.

Mrs. Roosevelt, in a short address, told the present students of the school to "remember that you are learning to live in the world with other people."

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) dedicated the plaque to the late president and said "his voice admonishes us to win the peace completely.

"Because he coveted for all a decent livelihood, a decent home, a decent education, and a decent later life, he was criticized," the Senator said.

"But because he was ambitious that his people attain these goals," Kefauver added, "he was also the most loved man in modern America."

Baldy Boyle Gives Advice To Graduates

New York, (AP)—Now is the golden time at end for many a rose-lipped maiden and many a light-foot lad.

This is the season when Alma Mater opens her iron gates. And out into an iron world she hurls her annual tide of college graduates.

Boyle

It is always a trembling hour when mother deliberately unties the apron strings that bind her to her children. Freedom and responsibility — they are so strange and new.

Goodbye to brackety-yackety-yack. Farewell dear campus so well beloved, but never so loved as now. Hello, world, so wide and terrible.

Ah, me! Ah, youth! Ah, wilderness! Aw, hell! Don't look so forlorn son. Life isn't all fang and claw and a sharp tack in a tight shoe. You're just a freshman in a bigger university—a university in which it is terribly important to pick the right professors.

Until now there has always been somebody ready with a handkerchief to wipe your nose. The first thing you have to learn in this new university you are entering is to keep your nose out of places where people will make it bleed. There are tough kids around, who live by the creed that a gun in the hand is worth two in the head. Don't play with them. Stay with the nice boys.

There are cleared places in this age-old jungle that is your new campus. Work with the people that want to tear down some of the choking moss and chop down some of the dead trees that hide the sky. The best fun in life is to leave something better than you found it. And if you don't help clear the campus, the moss will smother you in time, as it has so many, and you will become a dead tree in a dying part of the forest.

Okay, son, I know that sounds highfalut'n. Get the glaze out of your eyes. I know what's on your mind—you want a job. Fine. Drop that sheepskin from your warm little hand. Here's a broom. Get busy.

What's that? You don't want to push a broom? Why not? Do you want the broom to push you?

Oh, you'd hoped for something better? Well, so do we all. But you have to learn to saw wood before you can make a cabinet.

Listen, little acorn, it takes more than ambition to be an oak tree. It takes years. Ever hear of Spyros Skouras, the motion picture poobah? He makes more money that 'most anybody except Uncle Sam. Know how he got started? Working as a busboy in a St. Louis hotel.

Any job is better than no job. It isn't as important where you start as it is where you go from where you start. The nice thing about starting at the bottom is that there is only one way to go—up. Work and brains and friendliness will get you anywhere. And honesty will help keep you there.

Of course, you can always marry a rich lady and live a life of illease. But experts in this field all agree there is nothing harder than working at matrimony for a wealthy woman.

Do marry as soon as you have a job and are sure you can hold it. There is no future in being a hemoth. And a good wife is worth her weight in income tax exemptions. And she can help you get more income tax execptions worth having.

Whom to wed? A girl with a warm heart, my boy. Never mind her face. It'll change. But a good heart doesn't wrinkle.

Above all, my boy, don't marry a drinking woman—unless you want to spend your life listening to a talking hangover. Never marry a woman to reform her.

Health Department Sees Many Dangers For May 30 Holiday

Lansing, (AP)—The state health department takes such a dim view of Memorial Day weekends it hardly seems worth it to risk this one.

"Memorial Day is a time to remember the dead, not to join them," the department says balefully.

Here are some of the terrors it raises:

"Roads will be flooded with traffic; have your car checked and drive carfeully.

"Good restaurants which are open during the holiday will be filled to capacity. Be careful of the perishable foods in your picnic lunch. You can get food poisoning from your picnic baske as well as in an unclean restaurant. Drink only water from an approved supply and only pasteurized milk.

"Take your sunning in short intervals. Lake water will be cold, go in slowly.

"Avoid poison ivy, it is out early this year.

"Remember that a little golfing, softball, tennis, swimming or rowing is a considerable strain on even a middle-aged heart at the beginning of a season."

Personals

Lawrence Jock left Sunday for his home in Ohio after spending a week at the home of his son Robert Jock.

Word has been received here of the birth of a daughter, Doris Marie on May 11, to Mr. and Mrs. Myron McEachern of Detroit. Mrs. McEachern is the former Jennie Murphy, a one-time resident of Germfask. The baby is the first child in the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Popa and son of Detroit spent the weekend as guests at the home of Mrs. Popa's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Cornell.

Dannie Murphy of Detroit spent the weekend here as a guest of Miss Frances Oaken. Miss Oaken, who is employed as operator for the Bell Telephone Co., Marquette was home on a four day weekend leave.

Albert Boyd motored to Petoskey Sunday where he visited his wife who is a patient at Little Traverse hospital. Mrs. Boyd, who underwent a major operation last week is some what improved. Mr. Boyd was accompanied to Petoskey by his father, Joseph Boyd.

Everyone Talks About Russians In Helsinki

By PEG BOLGER
Manager, News Bureau
Wisconsin Central Airlines

Everyone talks about Russia in Helsinki . . . "There are many Russians here but of course we don't see them." . . . "I must say lately they have been very reasonable. Reparations demands are easing." "We wonder what it means . . . their being so polite." "You can hear them there . . . blasting . . . strange, their being so close, and not knowing what is being built on our own land." "Not a communist in our government of course . . . but slipping, and unofficial position, yes, there is the influence." "I shall send what nice things I have to my daughter in the States. There may not be a war but then again Finland is so close." "The Russians are 15 miles away but we forget that and work ahead the best way we can."

And, driving through the attractive district where the foreign legations are housed, it is impossible not to notice that one and only one of the ramoning houses is heavily guarded. It amuses the Finns very much and they never fail to remark, "They are very brave."

But the electric tension, inevitable I suppose, when a small country has a powerful, mysterious, former enemy as a neighbor, is not what I shall remember long about Helsinki.

Intense And Relaxed

The cohering character of the city and its people makes its own distinct impression. It is at once intense and relaxed, oriental and western, rough and refined, ancient and modern, and above all frank, affectionate, colorful and unforgettable.

I'll remember . . . The sound of Helsinki. In the restaurants and bars of Scandinavia there was a hushed, quiet, murmur always. Different from America, but insistent, and I lowered my voice, too. In Helsinki laughter is open and the dark, staccato, music of the language jumps at you from every corner.

The language itself, distantly related to Hungarian, Turkish and to Sanskrit, it is as startlingly different from other European languages as though a strange, tangled-haired gypsy stumbled into a gathering of neat, Nordic blondes by mistake. The names are wonderful. Of places . . . Hameenlinna, Aulanko, Hattula, Vehoniemi, Vaasa, Pori, Tampere, Lahti, Koupio, Punkaharju, Oulu Kokkola, Koli. Of people . . . Kai, Oola, Sahra, Muona, Bryk.

(It must be noted, however, that Swedish names mingle with the Finnish. Accountable to the times that Sweden's and Finland's histories have mixed and mingled, a sizeable percentage of Finland's people are of Swedish descent and Swedish is the second language.

Modern Architecture

I'll remember the look of the place. The East has banged its nose against the West in Helsingfors. An old Orthodox church has round, temple lines and an ancient castle with domes and spires sits on an island in the harbor. The modern is the freshest, most individual I have ever seen. Quite obviously, modern architecture in Finland, or at least Helsinki, follows no conventional trends and is unhampered by any rules except those imposed by functionalism, imagination, and beauty. In my unschooled opinion, some of the buildings are worth a pilgrimage trip by every budding architect in the world.

The children's hospital for instance. A child might have dreamed it. The twelve floors are twelve huge sun-catching half circles of glass at the front and large windows line the long graceful wings branching from it. Mosaic figures of children, done in a rich, deep-rust color, stand in relief from the front circle of the building. Each is individually sculptured in not too realistic and not too impressionistic style. And each is happily, carefully, intimately carved. Traced in the concrete of the entire building are delightful designs, . . . ducks, geese, the sun, the moon, the stars . . . over the entire building. It's as though the architect said, "This building will be functional and useful and have beautiful lines, but it's for children after all." And I didn't see the inside but I'll wager one hundred Finnish marks against 20 American cents it's done in warm, pleasant colors. The building was financed entirely from contributions.

Little Things Remembered

I'll remember little things in Helsinki:

The funny, mumblety-jumblety hotel where I stayed, with the liquid name—"Seurahuone" — and the charming White-Russian desk porter. A small fistful of musicians played wild Hungarian music every night from a little toy balcony hung over the dining room.

The shock of discovering that my dollar bought about a dollar's worth instead of ten. Comparatively speaking, Finland is one of the most expensive countries in Europe.

The friendly, insatiable curiosity about America. The energy and interest with which every one and his second cousin seems to be learning English.

The ancient, jumping, ever-so-handy, square-box taxicabs.

The strange golden liqueur, with the impossible name, made from native "cloudberries," Ambrosia.

The long half-light of day and the short spring night.

The abandoned, gaiety with which everyone celebrated May day. Marking the end of a long dark winter, the occasion is like our New Year's Eve, Fourth of July and Thanksgiving rolled into one. Students and ex-students donned their white school caps for 24 hours and there were parties, parties everywhere. I discovered that the Finns not only know how to do the samba, but improve upon it.

The proud way some of the women still wear the grey steel bands substituted for wedding rings when the gold was picked up.

Bomb scars.

I'll remember the big things:

The economic progress visible everywhere you look—the astonishing abundance of scarce items in the stores, the modern housing projects, and the reason given for it—"Finland has the most comprehensive and powerful cooperatives in the world."

Over ½ of Finland's population is actively organized into cooperative groups. Consumers' cooperation is the strongest in the world. Farmers belong to SOK, workers and other groups to ELANTO. Politically SOK is conservative and ELANTO predominately social-democratic. Both groups are astonishingly successful. The biggest department stores, the swankiest restaurants, the most modern apartment buildings, grocery stores, bakeries, butcher shops, clinics, libraries,—are cooperatively owned.

Vacation Villages

In a drive through Helsinki with Mr. Voionmaa, the director of ELANTO, I saw some of the cooperative housing projects. The occupants own the building themselves and sell shares. The apartments rent from $20 to $80 a month and are the last word in convenience and beauty. Elanto also builds "vacation villages" for its members and gives 1 million marks yearly for recreation, special education courses, orchestras and sports.

The cooperative stores I saw sold higher quality goods at cheaper prices and from the largest department store to the smallest bakery were clean, well-equipped and shining.

The cooperative movement in Finland is slightly different from the equally successful movement in Scandinavia in that producer and cosumer groups are organized jointly instead of into separate organizations . . . a method disputed in Scandinavia, but it seems to work for Finland. This conutry, which was the first in the world to grant women the right to vote and which has maintained a vigorous, democratic Republic ever since its independence, has produced tangible evidence that it is a world leader in social welfare.

Prepare For Olympics

The way the country is preparing for the 1952 Olympic games . . . that's something to remember because the way they are preparing their welcome mat is typically warm, enthusiastic, energetic and thorough. The huge stadium, built for the 1940 games—detoured by war, still stands. Housing for guests, hotels, resorts, are being readied. Nothing is being built that can't be used when the games are over. 65 nations will be represented at the Finland games. 5,000 actual participants and thousands of guests, including an expected 10,000 American Finns. Their host is waiting, ready and worthy.

Enthusiastically sports minded, Finland has its artistic side. Everybody goes to the theater. A new national theater is being built. The conservatories of music and dance are busy with original recitals. Apparently, if you don't sculpt, carve, paint, dance, or compose in Finland you are at least an appreciative spectator. The on-the-feet ovation given to a group of Hindu dancers performing while I was there was thunderous. The arts in Finland have the same free-from-trend, imaginative quality of the architecture.

And then there is Arabia, the huge ceramics plant at the edge of Helsinki. One of the artists, Kaipianen, showed me through the artists' studios, where the original designs for the high quality ceramics are created. The Arabia artists are well known, and for commercial employees, work with a remarkably individualistic, style with complete freedom to express themselves and experiment. The tour through Arabia was fascinating . . . but a long story in itself.

There are other stories too . . . distinctive lighting fixtures, modern furniture, industrial design . . . fields in which the Finnish producers seem to be years ahead of their European contemporaries. A New York designer had told me that the newest, most important changes in interior design were coming from Finland and it was interesting seeing them in their original habitat. The lighting fixtures in one of the newer restaurants, for instance, resembled ceiling-hung mobiles. Functional and beautiful.

Walking a tight rope in one of the warmest geographical positions in the world, Finland's independence and vigor is amazing. In a sense, "the gateway to the west," Finland is a fascinating, vivid, country. Too few Americans visit her.

They should. If only to drink in the beauty of her 60,000 lakes—. Or hear the children singing ancient songs on a May day Sunday morning.

Reliable estimates say there are about 3,000,000 coin-operated vending machines in this country, outside of coin-telephones and parcel lockers.

Shorter Hair Is Fashion Forecast

Washington, May 26 (AP)—Think women are wearing their hair too short now? Wait until next fall.

"It's going to be shorter than short," says Miss Ethel Gilchrist, president of the Washington hair dressers and cosmetologists association.

The hair fashion council of America meeting here figured out 15 different hair styles. Although cut short, it will be "very feminine," Miss Gilchrist insists.

"No shingles, but soft little wispy curls on the napes of the neck, short bangs and high feathery things on the side—very soft and very flattering."

Bark River Club Meeting Friday

The Bark River Home Economics club is meeting Friday evening, May 27 at the home of Mrs. Donald Van Enkevort for a lesson on upholstering. All members of the group are asked to be present.

ENGAGED—Mr. and Mrs. William Deuparo of Cooks announce the engagement of their daughter, Edith Frances Deuparo to Norbert John Deloria of Cooks. The wedding will take place in Detroit at the church of the Holy Redeemer on June 4.

Club Luncheon Marks Close Of Year's Program

Bouquets of apple blossoms and flowering almond arranged about the club house and graceful sprays of the same flowers on the tables formed an effective setting for the closing luncheon of the Escanaba Woman's club held yesterday afternoon at the Escanaba golf club.

The luncheon at one o'clock was followed by a short business meeting at which annual reports were presented by the club committees.

Mrs. Harry D. Brackett, reporting on the meeting of the state federation, read to the club members the state president's message: "Let us as women and as mothers, dedicate every working moment of our lives to the building of peace in this world by mobilizing every resource, every ounce of intelligence, every talent that we possess—beginning in our homes with a deep faith in God that can't be taught to our children but must be caught from us, extending through better communities to a stronger nation and culminating in a world of peace for all people everywhere."

In closing her talk, Mrs. Brackett, retiring president of the club, said, "There are so many things to be achieved and if you as club women promote understanding, cooperation and kindness, our club will be a success."

A brief talk also was given by Mrs. Henry H. Bathke, newly elected president.

Bridge was played during the afternoon. Mrs. C. J. Burns had high score and Mrs. W. H. Hildebrand, second.

The hostesses were Mrs. Harold Q. Groos, Mrs. A. J. Goulais, Mrs. D. R. Remington, Mrs. Carl W. Benzinger and Mrs. R. B. Mitchell.

Leftover potatoes are usually eaten with relish if they are sliced, spread with butter or margarine and broiled until lightly brown on both sides. They may be dusted with paprika, if you like, before they are sent to the table.

The trick in making hashed brown potatoes is to allow them to fry over low heat, without stirring, until brown on the bottom. They may then be turned with two wide spatulas and the other side browned.

H. J. WILFORD SELLS STORE

Will Devote Time to New Tourist Development

H. J. Wilford, veteran Rapid River businessman, announces the sale of his modern general grocery and meat market to Oliver Lund of Escanaba.

Lund will take possession on Monday, May 30. Lund recently has been managing a store in Escanaba. He formerly worked in Gladstone.

Wilford is one of the oldest merchants in Rapid River and he operated his present store for over 30 years, keeping it modern and in keeping with the trend of the times.

Mr. Wilford said he will devote his entire time to the tourist trade. He has a fine spot on the Whitefish River a short distance east of Rapid River where he operates a boat livery and is developing a cabin court. Wilford has several cabins completed and several others under construction or planned.

Theft Of Dog Is Denied In Court

John Johnson of Bark River Route 2, pleaded not guilty to a charge of stealing a dog owned by Louis Broman of this city upon arraignment before Justice A. T. Sohlberg Wednesday and hearing in the case was set for Friday.

Unable to furnish bond, Johnson was remanded to the county jail to await the hearing.

Johnson admits being with a chance acquaintance in a tour of local taverns and claims that the dog entered his friends auto only to be sold to another party for $5.00 when they visited a tavern near Wells. He claims the 'friend', whose name he says he does not know sold the dog and received the money.

The present possessor of the dog refuses to part with the animay unless paid $25.00 Broman said.

Pulls His Son And Cold From Cistern

Cutler, Ill.—(AP)—Sonny fell in the cistern but it was his dad who suffered.

Three-year-old Shelby Slusher chasing a cat on a nearby farm, plunged into a cistern, with eight feet of water in it. His sister, Mary Lou, 9, screamed, bringing their father, Lawrence Slusher, on the run. He couldn't see his son in the water.

The father, 36, a Cutler minister-businessman, dived. He came up with Shelby. The farmer George Reeves, pulled the boy out with a rope and put a ladder down for Slusher.

The small boy came out of the mishap apparently unharmed. But his father required medical care for a bad cold, a sore throat and —shock.

Both gold and iron rings were worn in early times by the Persians and Hindus.

(Additional classes will be added if interest warrants.)

RULES

1. The Contest is open to everybody, men, women and children. Contest opens with the legal fishing season and closes on September 15. Envelopes containing entries must bear a postmark not later than September 15, 1949, to be eligible.

2. All fish entered in the contest must be caught in public waters of Upper Michigan during the open season in the respective fish class.

3. Contest is limited to fish taken with hook and line. Any legal lure may be used. Lake trout must be caught on a rod or line freely held in the hand and not attached to a boat.

4. All information asked for on the entry blank should be supplied. Failure to give length and girth may disqualify entries. Fish must be weighed on tested scales and measured with a steel tape measure, the length taken from the end of the lower jaw with the mouth closed to the tip of the tail, and the greatest girth of the fish taken. Weight may be given dressed or in the round or both.

5. In the wall-eyed pike and black bass classes a photograph is desirable to be sure of identity of the species.

6. In the event of two or more fish weighing and measuring exactly the same, identical trophies will be awarded. Greatest measurements will decide the winner when weights are approximately equal.

7. Accompany your entry with a photograph of yourself or the fish or both together with a brief story of how, where and when the fish was caught. A photograph is not essential to win an award but it is desirable.

8. The entry blank printed above, or an exact copy must be used. It must be signed by the person catching the fish and by two witnesses who examined the fish and verified its weight and measurements. The contestant agrees, if requested to do so by the judges, to furnish an affidavit attesting to the truth of all statements made in the entry.

9. Contestants may make as many entries in all classes as they wish.

PRIZE AWARDS

In each of the classes the angler entering the fish which is adjudged to be the largest in its class will receive a trophy in recognition of his or her accomplishment.

Additional blanks may be had free of charge by addressing Outdoors Editor, Escanaba Daily Press, Escanaba, Michigan.

Walleye Opening

The approach to the new site prepared by the Conservation department for the convenience of fishermen near Garden Cornors was crowded before midnight Friday in readiness for the opening of the walleye season at 12:01 a. m., Saturday. Cottages in the vicinity were filled and other fishermen were enjoying the hospitality of relatives in local homes. In short, everything possible was in readiness for the big moment. The fish, however, did not cooperate with the same enthusiasm and very small catches were the result. Local people didn't get excited knowing that the weatherman wasn't cooperating.

One plane arrived Friday on the local airstrip, the first of the season, and a second landed Sunday.

WELL-RAKED FOR CLEAN SWEEP — The Air Force's newest jet fighter, the F-90, takes its initial camera bow in Burbank, Calif. The plane, with its rakish, swept-back lines, is ready for intensive flight tests to determine performance records. Combining speed, range and maneuverability, the F-90 was designed to operate behind enemy lines.

Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Gets Go-Ahead

The Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital has received the go ahead signal.

Official sanction to award construction contracts arrived in Manistique Wednesday morning in the form of a telegram to A. J. Cayia from the state department of hospital survey and construction. This was a detail on which the authorization of federal funds depended.

Only a few more details, all of a minor nature, must be taken care of before actual construction operations begin.

At a meeting of the hospital board of trustees, held Wednesday afternoon, St. Clair Pardee, the architect, was ordered to have the construction contracts completed.

The awarding of the contracts was agreed upon when the bids were opened on May 12. Accepted were:

Proksch Construction Company, Iron River, general construction at cost of $180,000.00.

Cloverland Contracting Company, Iron River, at a cost of $79,585.

Cloverland Contracting Company, wiring and electrical installation at a cost of $12,491.

Ruslander & Sons, Inc., Buffalo, N. Y., kitchen, at cost of $10,547.

U. S. Hoffman Machine Company, New York City, laundry, at cost of $5,456.

Total cost, $288,079.

5 doctors prove this plan breaks the laxative habit

If you take laxatives regularly—here's how you can stop!

Because 5 New York doctors now have proved you may break the laxative habit. And establish your natural powers of regularity. Eighty-three per cent of the cases tested did it. So can you.

Stop taking whatever you now take. Instead: Every night for one week take 2 Carter's Pills. Second week—one each night. Third week—one every other night. Then—nothing!

Every day: drink eight glasses of water; set a definite time for regularity.

Five New York doctors proved this plan can break the laxative habit.

How can a laxative break the laxative habit? Because Carter's Pills "unblock" the lower digestive tract and from then on let it make use of its own natural powers.

Further—Carter's Pills contain no habit-forming drugs.

Break the laxative habit . . . with Carter's Pills . . . and be regular naturally.

When worry, overeating, overwork make you irregular temporarily—take Carter's Pills temporarily. And never get the laxative habit.

Get Carter's Pills at any drugstore for 33¢ today. You'll be grateful the rest of your life.

Well Known Summer Resident Is Dead

Word has been received here by Fred Heltman, of the recent death of Frank E. Vigor, of Chicago, Ill., who spent his summers at Bear Trap Lodge for the past 18 years.

Mr. Vigor was vice president of the American Roller Mills Company. His wife survives.

Poppy Day Will Be Observed Here Friday-Saturday

Mayor Walter Burns has issued a proclamation designating Friday and Saturday as "Poppy Day" in Manistique.

On those days volunteer workers from the American Legion Auxiliary and cooperating groups will distribute poppies to be worn in honor of the war dead and in exchange for them will receive contributions for the welfare of disabled war veterans and needy children of veterans.

In his proclamation Mayor Burns says in part, "The memory of those who made the supreme sacrifice in World Wars I and II is a source of great inspiration to all citizens as our nation faces new difficulties and dangers. This memory should be kept bright by the annual wearing of poppies in their honor."

The flowers are made by veterans in veteran hospitals. They receive pay for this work—a source of revenue which has helped many a distressed veteran and his family along.

Second Negro Gets Death For Murder Of Girl On Guam

Guam, (AP)—A sentence of death was pronounced Wednesday on Pvt. Calvin Dennis, Negro airman of Frederick, Md., in the rape murder of Miss Ruth Farnsworth.

A 20th air force court martial found him guilty and assessed his punishment the same as that of his half brother, Pvt. Herman Dennis, of Calvert and Seguin, Texas, who was sentenced to die last week.

Calvin Dennis denied participation in the crime. But he admitted being present when Miss Fansworth was slugged and carried into the jungle Dec. 11. After the girl was raped she was left to die.

A third Negro, Sgt. Robert Burns, 32, of Spokane, Wash., will go to trial Friday in the case.

Miss Farnsworth, of San Francisco, worked part time in a jade shop from which she was kidnaped the fatal night.

MRS. HERBERT ON COMMITTEE

To Aid Effort To Create Atomic Research Center

Mrs. J. Joseph Herbert, wife of Regent Herbert, of Manistique, has been appointed chairman for Schoolcraft county in the Michigan Memorial-Phoenix Project campaign, it was announced Wednesday by Walter F. Gries of Ishpeming, chairman of the region comprising fifteen counties in the Upper Peninsula. The campaign is nation-wide to raise $6,500,000 for the establishment of an atomic research center at the University of Michigan.

Mr. Gries announced that he has appointed chairmen for all of the 15 counties, which makes this the first region in the country to complete its organization.

State Head Of DAV Installs Post Officers

Officers of the local post of Disabled American Veterans were formally installed Monday night by the DAV state commander, Lionel Sleeman, the ceremony being held at the VFW Club rooms on North Maple avenue.

Officers installed were Elmer Richey, commander; Floyd Houghton, sr., vice commander; Roy Janes, sergeant-at-arms; Albert Mersnic, officer of the day; Henry Gardner, treasurer. The adjutant will be appointed by the commander.

In his talk, following installation, the state commander praised the work and the progress made by the local post.

Also at the meeting arrangements were made to send delegates to the state convention at Flint on June 17, 18 and 19. Refreshments were served at the close of the business session. The next regular meeting of the post will be on June 27.

Miss Evelyn Furey Recently Married In Scarsdale, N. Y.

Word has been received from Scarsdale, N. Y., of the marriage, on May 21, of Miss Evelyn Lydia Furey, daughter of Mrs. Gertrude R. Furey of that city, to Robert Carter Morrow, jjr., of Cleveland, N. Y. The ceremony took place at Hitchcock Memorial church with the Rev. Adelmar Byron officiating. Miss Gertrude Furey, a twin sister of the bride was maid of honor.

Mr. Morrow, Yale, '48, and a member of the Tau Beta Pi, was a first lieutenant in the AAF. The bride is a graduate of Ward Belmont College and the Katherine Gibbs school.

The marriage is of local interest because the bride is a granddaughter of the late Dr. D. W. Roose, a former physician in this city.

Bike Licenses Must Be Procured Before June 1, Say Police

Wednesday, June 1 is the deadline for bike licenses in Manistique, Chief of Police Roy Anderson states. After that time, bicycles found on the streets with old license plates will be taken up by the police he warns. The licenses may be applied for at the city hall and cost 25 cents each. The serial number of each vehicle must be furnished by the owner when making application.

Most of the bicycle owners in the city have applied for license plates, but there are still a lot of bikes that are bearing last years permits.

Driver Training Course Is Success

Munising—For the first time, driver training was started in January, 1948, in the Munising township high school. It was operated for the last six months of the school year, and 35 pupils were taught to drive. During the present school year it has been operated since the beginning, and so far, 61 pupils have been taught. Thus, since the course was instituted, 96 pupils have been trained by Mr. Robert Villemure and Mr. Albert Ikkala.

The driver training car is made possible through the courtesy of Cox Chevrolet.

Visual Expert Visits Schools

Munising—Miss Caroline Austin, vision consultant from the Michigan Department of Health, spent last Thursday and Friday in the Munising township and Sacred Heart schools. This is a relatively new service inaugurated by the department. Miss Austin visited many classrooms, and made practical suggestions for the elimination of glare, color contrasts, and other things which make for visual fatigue. On the basis of her suggestions, it is possible to make a program of immediate improvements, and also a long range program to improve the conditions in the classrooms.

In addition to her classroom visitations, she also met with teachers to assist them in diagnosing problems of children.

Miss Austin will return at some future date to be of further assistance in carrying out this program.

Miss Austin is an assistant to Dr. Goldie B. Corneliuson, who is well known in Munising.

Reunion Is Held After 10 Years

Munising — Relatives who had not met in 50 years enjoyed a reunion here last weekend. Mrs. Tillie Wirth, of Ridgeland, Wis., and Mrs. Bert Beyton and Mrs. Cy Cesulka, of South Bend, Ind., visited with their aunt, Mrs. Clare Tiernan, and their cousins, John Tiernan and Mrs. Charles Cook.

Jos. Schilinsky Called by Death

Munising—Funeral rites were held in Beaulieu's funeral chapel at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon for Joseph Schilinsky, 58, who died Saturday following a heart attack at the Burrell camp, in Beaver Basin. The Rev. G. F. Harrington, pastor of the Sacred Heart church, officiated. Burial was made in Maple Grove cemetery.

Mr. Schilinsky, who served three years in the U. S. Army, 1920-23, was born in 1891 in Lithuania. He had lived in this area nine years. A brother, in Pennsylvania, survives him.

MUNISING BRIEFS

The Eastern Star will hold its annual bake sale Saturday at the Michigan Gas office, starting at 11 o'clock.

Mrs. Ethel Walts, of Chicago, is now residing with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Christman, East Munising.

Circle 18 of St. Anthony's Guild is sponsoring a rummage sale this weekend at the home of Mrs. Pearl Rollain, 107 West Onota St.

Temperatures here this past week averaged 49.3 degrees, Weather Bureau Albert Oas has reported. The high reading was 84 and the low 25.

The Mather high school chapter of the National Honor society held its annual initiation Thursday evening at the school.

Leslie Hillberg, Verne Beattie and Dean Hoffenbacher have left to spend a week at Port Arthur, Ont.

Pfc Donald Livermore left Tuesday morning to return to duty at Fort Bliss, Tex., following an 11-day furlough spent with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Livermore.

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

U. P. track finals cuff notes: While 350 athletes from 40 schools are competing for U. P. prep track honors here Saturday, 2,000 from 218 high schools will battle for Lower Michigan track honors at Michigan State college . . . Finals will start at 9:45 a. m. Saturday in the Class D and C shot put, Class C and B high jump, Class D and B pole vault and Class C broad jump . . . Finals in all other events start at 1:15 . . . The 880-yard relay is the finale at 5 p. m.

* * *

Menominee's chances of lifting the Class B title from the stalwart shoulders of Coach Jack Kraemer's Ironwood Red Devils were hurt when Billy Wells, ace sprinter and relay man, was injured in a motorcycle accident in Menominee yesterday . . . The cycle he was driving collided with a big truck . . . He was at home last night with a badly lacerated left leg and injured left arm and X-rays were to be taken to determine whether the arm was fractured . . . That hits the Maroons hard, but with 29 qualifiers remaining to 26 for Ironwood, they still have plenty of power left to go to the final wire with the Red Devils . . . But Wells will be sorely missed . . . He ran a 23.9 furlong and was just a shade behind Emil Pontow at 10.4 in the century.

* * *

That means that the Pontow brothers, Emil and Bill, will have to stand off the challenge of Ironwood's Fred Holemo, who ran a 10.35 century and 24.1 furlong in the Wakefield regional . . . Incidentally, we hope you'll make good use of the big chart above . . . It was no small job getting it out, so we hope you'll make the most of it . . . It gives you the Upper Peninsula track picture at a glance in a way that 10,000 words could not match . . . Remember what the Chinaman said—a picture is worth 10,000 words . . . We'll go along with that on the above chart.

* * *

This Keith Ewing-Paul Gustafson high and low hurdles duel is a honey . . . They've been beating each other all season . . . Which leaves the decision here Saturday a big question mark . . . It was the same last year when Ewing barely shaded Gustafson . . . Now comes John Leppi, of Ironwood . . . He not only will get into the act, but he may steal the show from black-thatched Keith and blond-topped Paul . . . Leppi ran a 16.1 high and 24.7 low hurdles in Wakefield . . . That should make the hurdles a scorcher . . . And don't discount Dick Greenwood, of Menominee . . . He had a 16.3 high . . . Maybe they'll come down four abreast in the high hurdles . . . A photo finish in the century and high hurdles is practically a certainty . . . Iron River's Bruce Trewartha is another hurdle ace on a par with Ewing Gustafson, Leppi and Greenwood.

* * *

Denny Deegan, of Marquette, is the favorite to cop the broad jump title . . . Wirey Deegan has a 19-9 to his credit this season and that's considerably better than Harold Larson, Menominee, and Milakovich, of Ironwood, did in the regional tests . . . Deegan went 19-3¼ in his own regional but he's got more in his system, no doubt about that . . . That's what piques your interest in track championships . . . The challenge of rivals on a par with you brings out the best.

* * *

If Bill Pontow has hopes of adding the U. P. hole vault championship to his collection, he'll have to deal with not only Phil Crispigna of Iron Mountain, who tied him in the regional, but one Lawrence Sobolewski, of Ironwood, who went 10 feet 10¾ inches in Wakefield last Saturday . . . That's a better mark than Pontow has posted in competition this season.

* * *

Wakefield is gunning for the Class C title like never before . . . Runnerup to Houghton last year, the Cardinals are dead set on taking L'Anse and Munising and the rest in stride this season . . . Houghton isn't a title threat this season but L'Anse piled up 80.9 and Munising amassed 88 in winning their respective regionals, and they'll be rugged competition for Wakefield.

Larry Doby Cracks A 500-Foot Homer

Washington, May 26 (AP)—Cleveland's Larry Doby last night hit one of the longest home runs in Washington's baseball history.

Repeating his Yankee stadium performance of last Friday the Negro outfielder slammed at an inside, fast ball and hit it over a sign atop Griffith stadium's right-centerfield wall.

Veteran baseball writers who date back past the Babe Ruth era estimated the wallop carried some 500 feet. It cleared the sign, which is 55 feet above the ground, by about 10 feet.

It was reported later that the ball landed on a roof-top well outside the stadium. The report came from a housewife who telephoned to complain that the ball hit her roof and woke up her children.

It's beginning to seem that this 24-year-old lefthander is going around making monkeys of the fences that were built to hold the immortal and equally left-handed Babe Ruth. Owner Clark Griffith erected Griffith stadium's high rightfield wall to stop Ruth. That wall in those days was 35 feet high. It still is except where Doby hit the ball. The advertising sign on top of the wall is 20 feet high itself.

"That ball Hudson threw me," said Larry," was the same kind of inside fast ball that Porterfield tossed at me in New York."

"I'm sure glad I'm catching on to those fast ones again."

Schneiter (Of All People) Paces PGA Golf Tourney

Richmond, Va., May 26 (AP)—The thirty-first PGA tournament became a wild scramble to overhaul George Schneiter of Ogden, Utah, in the battle for medlist honors today.

Schneiter, the 36-year-old boss of the traveling pros, was superb yesterday as he toured the windswept course in five-under-par 66.

In danger of being eliminated today were Dick Metz of Virginia Beach, Va., Denny Shute of Akron, Ohio, and Toney Penna, of Cincinnati, with 75s; Craig Wood of New York, Chick Harbert of Detroit, Vic Ghezzi of Englewood, N. J., and Horton Smith of Detroit with 76s and Lawson Little of Monterey, Calif., 77.

Shute and Ghezzi are former PGA champions. Four other extitlists did better. Slammin' Sammy Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., scored a two-under-par 69 to tie four others for fifth place. Jim Ferrier of San Francisco and Gene Sarazen of Germantown, N. Y., carded 72s and Bob Hamilton of Landover, Me., a 73.

Glancing back over his card, Schneiter said:

"Gee, I played that front nine pretty good, didn't I?"

Everyone admitted that he did. Schneiter was out in five-under 31 and played the back nine in 35. He carved eight birdies, was over three times.

A stroke behind Schneiter was surprising Jack Isaacs, Langley Field, Va., professional, whose only claim to country-wide golfing fame is that he won the National Servicemen's championship at San Angelo, Texas, in 1943.

Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., and Howard Schmidt, an unknown from Chino, Calif., started today's round deadlocked for third place with 68s.

Stranahan, Turnesa Lop-Sided Winners In British Amateur

Portmarnock, Ireland, May 26 (AP)—Both Frank Stranahan and Willie Turnesa scored one-sided victories in the fourth round of the British amateur golf championship today as the field was reduced to 16 survivors.

Stranahan, the defending champion from Toledo, Ohio, crushed G. A. Loveday of England 7 and 6, after Turnesa, the American amateur king from Elmsford, N. Y., had knocked out Robert Walker of Scotland, 5 and 3.

Both Americans played sparkling golf, featured by great putting. The fifth round was scheduled to be played this afternoon.

SOFTBALL

Schedule for tonight: Memorial Field, Hughes-Tomlinson vs. Northland Stores, 7:15; Paper Mill vs. Merchants, 8:45. Flat Rock, White Birch vs. Nu-Way; Royce Park, Peoples Hotel vs. Liberty Loan; Webster, Steam Laundry vs. Clairmont's.

The K-C's defeated Northland Stores, 2-0, behind the two-hit pitching of Homer LaCrosse last night.

K-C's	001 100 0—2	7	1
Northland	000 000 0—0	2	1

LaCrosse and Lequia; Goulais and Kennelly.

Other softball scores Wednesday night: Clairmont's 12, F&H Welders 3; Larmay's 8, People's Bar 6.

Clairmont Transfer defeated Harnischfeger, 11-3, in a National league game last night at Memorial field. Batteries: Sullivan and Laviolette for Clairmont's and McCarthy and LeHouiller for the Welders.

The Clairmont-Steam Laundry game at Webster this evening has been postponed.

Wolverine Trackmen Bow To Ohio State

Columbus, Ohio, May 26 (AP)—Ohio State held another dual track triumph over Michigan today, chiefly as a result of the performance of its brilliant Olympic Champion, Mal Whitfield.

The Buckeyes came from behind to sweep the last three events for a 70½ to 61½ decision here yesterday. Whitfield won the 440 in 49.8 seconds, the half mile in 1:54.2 and anchored Ohio State's winning mile relay team.

Michigan's Jim Mitchell, Clay Holland and Don Hoover finished 1-2-3 in that order in both hurdle races.

PRACTICE GAME

Gladstone, May 26—The Gladstone Redskins will get some practice for this coming Sunday when they clash with the Rapid River nine of the County league at the Bay Shore diamond at 6:45 this evening.

Scholarship Award Goes to Eddleman

Champaign, Ill., May 26 (AP)—Dike Eddleman, University of Illinois athletic ace, has added a scholarship award to his trophy case which already contains 11 varsity letters in track, football and basketball.

Eddleman won the 1949 Illinois conference honor medal for athletics and scholarship yesterday. During his four years at the university Eddleman has maintained a "B" average in school work.

Even Doby's Long Clouts Can't Carry The Indians

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Flop is the word for Cleveland's first eastern trip despite the long distance clouting of Larry Doby.

Only the home run hitting of the talented Negro outfielder saved the Tribe from complete disaster. He couldn't do it all.

The world champions left their lake shore wigwam May 11 after whipping the New York Yankees in a night game. They were in second place. No matter what happens tonight when they wind up their tour at Washington, they'll go home in seventh place. No wonder Bill Veeck wants to start the season all over again.

They have a 2-6 record against the Red Sox, Yanks, A's and Senators. Doby took care of one victory all by himself with a 450-foot plus homer, believed by many to be the longest ever hit at Yankee stadium.

Last night Cleveland lost again, although Doby hit another. This time it was a long drive that cleared a sign atop the right-centerfield scoreboard at Washington. If it hadn't been for that, Sid Hudson would have had a shutout. As it was he won, 6-2.

Once again Manager Lou Boudreau's pitchers failed him. Steve Gromek, who pitched two innings on relief Sunday and worked one inning Tuesday night at Philadelphia before the game was rained out, failed to get past the first inning. In fact, he failed to get anybody out. A base hit and three walks sent him to the showers.

The St. Louis Browns, humiliated twice by the Yankees, turned on the Boston Red Sox to win an 8-4 game. Jack Graham's eighth home helped the Brownes pile up an early lead for Cliff Fannin that Al Zarilla's three-run homer in the sixth couldn't overcome.

Brooklyn tightened the National league race by thumping Pittsburgh, 8-6, while both Boston and New York were losing. The Dodgers are only a game out of first, winning seven of nine in the west. Jackie Robinson continued his batting spree with a two-run homer and single, boosting his RBI total to 34.

Howie Pollet looked like the Pollet of 1946 as he pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to a six-hit 3-0 win over the leading Boston Braves. Warren Spahn had one bad inning—the fourth — when St. Louis scored all its runs.

Bud Lively came through with another well-pitched effort as Cincinnati shaded the Phillies, 3-2. A double by Danny Litwiler, Johnny Wyrostek's single and an outfield fly broke a 2-2 tie in the sixth.

Six Straight Losses For Faltering Tigers

New York, May 26 (AP)—The faltering Detroit Tigers were out to break a six-game losing streak today as they faced Lopat and the New York Yankees in the finale of a two game series.

The Tigers and Hal Newhouser bowed to the Yankees 6-2 yesterday as slender lefthander Tommy Byrne beat them for the second time this season. He shut them out 12-0 at Briggs stadium May 8.

It marked his fifth straight victory over the Tigers in the last two years and he never looked more impressive beating them than he did yesterday.

Byrne served notice in the first inning that the Tigers were in for a rough afternoon as he fanned the side. Before the afteroon was over he had struck out 12, walked four and allowed only five hits.

Newhouser, whose loss gave him a 4-4 record, got a going over from the Yankee sluggers who got to him for 12 hits, including four doubles and a home run, in his six innings. Marlin Stuart finished up for the Tigers.

Newhouser lacked his usual effectiveness in the early innings, but it was a scoreless ball game until the last of the fourth when Hank Bauer hit his first homer of the season to start the Yankees on their way.

The league leaders tucked the game away in the fifth as they scored three runs on singles by Johnny Lindell and Snuff Stirnweiss and doubles by Jack Philips and Byrne.

Byrne, who got another double during the afternoon, really broke up the ball game with his fifth inning two-bagger that scored two runs.

The Tigers had little to cheer about for the afternoon as they eagerly looked forward to the end of their unhappy road trip. They open a three-game series with the St. Louis Browns under the arc lights Friday night.

Late Scramble Due For 500-Mile Race

Indianapolis, May 26 (AP)—A last-minute scramble of heroic proportions is probable Saturday in the final qualification session for the 500-mile Memorial Day auto race.

Six spots still are vacant in the 33-car starting field.

Two of the 66 entries have been wrecked in practice runs. About 30 cars still are possible qualifiers. Average speeds have been too fast for most of them this year but a dozen good cars have yet to run.

The lineup probably would have been filled yesterday except for rain and wind. Only three cars qualified before it rained. A half-dozen others had to be driven back to garages.

Saints Bump Into The Brewers Again

(By The Associated Press)

The St. Paul Saints, once way out in front in the American Association, today opened a series with the new leaders, the Milwaukee Brewers.

The Saints, victim of repeated losses on the road, now are one full game behind Milwaukee. Minneapolis and Indianapolis trail the Brewers by two games.

In the only games played last night Indianapolis nipped last-place Louisville 3 to 2 and Toledo defeated Columbus 8 to 5.

Reunited With Brother Believed Dead 21 Years

By STANLEY BARNETT

Green Bay, Wis.—For the first time in nearly half a century, Clyde Lambert, 1154 Smith street, talked this week with his brother, John—whose funeral he thought he attended 21 years ago. It was their first meeting in 46 years.

John recently arrived from California to visit his "long lost" relatives. He had seen his sister, Mrs. Roy Helt, in Portland, Ore. —she was 3½ years old when he left home—and his brother, Jerry, in Ensign, Mich. From Green Bay he will go to Saginaw, Mich., to see his brother Joe. He'd like to visit another brother, Rufus, but doesn't know his address, and neither do other members of the family.

John, now nearing 64, was 17 when he decided to quit life on the family farm at Bellevue and seek more exciting adventures. He had them, too. As one of the crew of a whaler wrecked in Alaskan waters, he stayed in Alaska for four years, prospecting. He worked in harvest fields, in mining camps, and on construction jobs.

That was what led to the story of his death. A man killed in a dynamite blast on a railroad construction job in Minnesota in 1928 had been identified as John Lambert. The family here was notified. Recognition of the blast victim was impossible, but the family took the authorities' word and buried him as John Lambert.

The identification appeared to have been made through a hunting license. Lambert says he never worked on the Minnesota job and does not know how the man later killed obtained his hunting license. And he did not know that his family had regarded him as dead.

Several times, he said, he started to come home. Once was immediately after World War I. A friend had his wartime pay; Lambert had a car. They started for Wisconsin, ran into a snowstorm and out of money. Another time, he got as far as Nebraska, but his letters to relatives were returned; the addressees had moved.

Last October, he wrote the Rev. DeLoyd Huenink, pastor of Grace Presbyterian church, in an effort to obtain a copy of his baptismal certificate. The pastor was unable to locate it, and asked Clyde Lambert for help.

Amazed, Clyde saw that the name was that of his brother whose "funeral" he had attended 21 years before. He suspected a fraud to get money, and wrote to a cousin in Los Angeles, requesting him to call on John Lambert. When they were boys, Clyde wrote, John had received a scarred hand in an accident with a hay fork, and he asked the cousin to look for the scar.

The cousin wrote back that John had the scar, and a lot of family details that no outsider would know. This led to resumption of correspondence between the two brothers, and to John's visit here.

After visiting Saginaw, John plans to come back here for a time, and then return to the Pacific coast, where he has been employed at a stationary engineer.
